This is also another known economic principle.
The following page contains a document with text in Telugu. The text is not directly translatable into English, but it appears to discuss various financial and economic topics. The content includes terms such as "instalments," "interest rate," and "women empowerment." The text seems to be discussing the impact of interest rates on financial decisions and the role of women in economic growth.

While I can't provide a direct translation, the document likely elaborates on the differential interest rate and its effects on women's empowerment. The text touches on the普通 type of growth and experiments in this context. It suggests that financial education and planning are crucial for women's economic empowerment.
This is such a success story. Its a phenomenal growth.
Mr. Revanth do you know such a situation?

Where there is a will there is a way. Where there is a will there is a way. Where there is a will there is a way. Where there is a will there is a way. Where there is a will there is a way. Where there is a will there is a way.
Yes, because of bureaucracy because of commitment, because of strong will of the Government, we are able to do.
