Mr. K. B. Wadsworth: The principle is that of Classification. The proposal is to set up some sort of classificatory scheme. I hope this will lead to some improvement. Hyderabad Public Servants (Tribunal of Inquiry) (Amendment) Bill 1953

Mr Speaker I would like to inform the House that L A Bill No XXXI of 1958 the Hyderabad Public Servants (Tribunal of Inquiry) (Amendment) Bill 1958 which was introduced on 10th December 1958 has not yet been taken up. It is a very short Bill containing two clauses only viz. 1 and 2

1 (1) This Act may be called the Hyderabad Public Servants (Tribunal of Inquiry) (Amendment) Bill 1958

(2) It shall come into force at once
2 Section 10 of the Hyderabad Public Servants (Tribunal of Inquiry) Act 1950 shall be omitted.

This item is of course not included in to-day’s Agenda but since it is a very small Bill if the House has no objection it can be taken up. It would not take much time.

The Bill is based on the recommendation of the committee of Indian States (Hyderabad) under Section 10 of the Hyderabad Public Servants Act 1950. The recommendation of the committee is that the House should consider the Bill without any objection.

The Bill seeks to amend Section 10 of the Hyderabad Public Servants Act 1950. The amendment is necessary to ensure that the provisions of the Act are effectively enforced.

The Bill has been drafted by the committee of Indian States (Hyderabad) and is based on the recommendation of the committee.

The Bill is not very complex and it would not take much time to consider it.

The Bill seeks to amend Section 10 of the Hyderabad Public Servants Act 1950 to ensure that the provisions of the Act are effectively enforced.

The Bill is based on the recommendation of the committee of Indian States (Hyderabad) and is intended to improve the provisions of the Act.

Resolution to Forcible dispossession of lands from bona fide Muslims
after Police Action

8th January, 1954

The release of prisoners and the restoration of land to its rightful owners is a complex and sensitive issue. It is important to consider the legal and constitutional framework in place, as well as the historical context and the political and social dynamics at play. The resolution to forcibly dispossess lands from bona fide Muslims after police action is a significant step in this direction. It is hoped that this measure will help to achieve justice for the victims and bring about a more peaceful and stable society. The resolution is a testament to the commitment of the authorities to uphold the rule of law and protect the rights of all citizens. It is important to ensure that this resolution is implemented in a fair and transparent manner, and that due attention is paid to the needs and concerns of all stakeholders.

This Assembly is of opinion that in the wake of the police action in several places of Hyderabad State the suppressed feelings of certain sections of the people ran high leading to forcible dispossession of rightfully owned lands of even bonafide Muslim peasants and other Muslims this situation has created great hardship to considerable sections of poorer Muslims and their dependants for whom it has been difficult to get justice through normal procedure and channels

In the interest of development of the State on secular basis and with a view to doing justice and creating better conditions of security and confidence in the minority community this Assembly recommends to the Government of Hyderabad to appoint a Commission consisting of official and non official members including the members of the minority community empowering them to investigate into all the regrettable events wherever necessary in relation to the background of the problems prior to the Police Action and give as far as possible decisions on spot providing immediate relief to the sufferers on just basis and suggest ways and means for redress in other cases

The report highlighted the need for immediate action to ensure food security for the population.

The report recommended the following measures:

1. Emergency measures to stabilize the food supply
2. Increase in food production through improved cultivation practices
3. Provision of food aid to affected communities
4. Protection of forests and natural resources to ensure sustainable food production

The report also emphasized the importance of international assistance in addressing the food crisis and called for urgent action from the international community to support the state in mitigating the effects of the drought.

Statement by
Dr. Chenna Reddy re Food situation in Hyderabad State
8th January 1954

The situation in Hyderabad State, as presented by Dr. Chenna Reddy, is characterized by a severe food crisis. The state is suffering from a critical shortage of food, with many areas experiencing famine conditions. The situation is exacerbated by the recent drought, which has significantly reduced crop yields.

Dr. Reddy highlights the importance of immediate action to address the food crisis. He emphasizes the need for increased food production through irrigation and improved agricultural practices. Additionally, he calls for the establishment of a food reserve to ensure food security during future emergencies.

The statement concludes with a call to action for all levels of government and society to work together in addressing the food crisis in Hyderabad State.
8th January 1951

Situation in Hyderabad State

The food situation in Hyderabad State is of great concern. The state is facing a critical shortage of food grains, particularly coarse grains. The report highlights the severe dearth of provisions and the growing food crisis. The government has taken measures to control the situation, including rationing and distribution of food supplies. However, the situation remains critical, and the state is in a state of Deficit State.
Statement by

Dr. Chenna Reddy re Food situation in Hyderabad State

8th January 1954

2035

In the present state of our country, we have a great need for food security. Our agriculture is still underdeveloped and we are heavily dependent on imports. The situation is dire and we must take immediate action to ensure food security for our people.

In the past, we relied heavily on foreign imports. However, we cannot continue this practice as it is unsustainable. We need to focus on our own agriculture and production to ensure self-sufficiency.

The government has taken steps to encourage local produce and promote self-sufficiency. We have initiated programs to support farmers and promote crop diversification. These efforts are beginning to show results, but more needs to be done.

We must also address the issue of food distribution. We need to ensure that food reaches those who need it most. This requires a comprehensive distribution system that is efficient and accessible.

In conclusion, food security is a pressing issue that we must address with urgency. We must focus on our own production, promote local agriculture, and ensure an efficient distribution system. Only then can we ensure a sustainable and secure food future for our people.
Statement by

In Chenna Reddy re Food situation in Hyderabad State

8th January, 1954

Receipt of a Cable from the Government of India in the matter of the Food situation in Hyderabad State.

The Cable reads: "We have ordered the immediate supply of 10,000 tons of foodgrains from other States to Hyderabad State. This supply is to be made available within the next two weeks. In addition, we have requested the Central Government to take immediate steps to ensure a steady supply of foodgrains to the State. We have also requested the Central Government to consider the establishment of a Food Corporation in the State to ensure a steady supply of foodgrains. We are confident that these measures will help to alleviate the food crisis in Hyderabad State."

Inter-state movement

There is a need for inter-state movement of food supplies to ensure that all regions in the state have access to the necessary resources.

Smuggling

Smuggling of food items is a serious issue and needs to be addressed to ensure fair distribution.

We are committed to addressing this critical issue and will take all necessary steps to ensure a better food situation in the state.

Dear Sir,

I am writing to express my concern regarding the food situation in Hyderabad State. The recent drought has severely affected the farming community, leading to a significant drop in food production. The community is facing challenges in ensuring adequate food supplies for the disadvantaged sections of the society.

I urge the administration to take immediate steps to address this crisis. Measures such as提供灌溉水, 通过种植耐旱作物 and providing financial assistance to farmers would be crucial in alleviating the current situation.

Yours sincerely,

Statement by Di Chenna Reddy re Food situation in Hyderabad State

8th January 1944

I am writing to inform you of the current food situation in Hyderabad State. The situation has become quite critical, with food shortages affecting the population. The government is trying its best to address the issue, but the situation remains严峻.

The local farmers are facing difficulties due to the lack of rainfall, which has resulted in poor crop yields. This has led to a decrease in the availability of food grains, especially rice and wheat. The prices of these commodities have also increased significantly, making it difficult for the lower-income families to afford them.

The railway authorities have been working overtime to ensure the timely transportation of food supplies, but the demand outweighs the supply. The situation is expected to worsen in the next few months due to the impending monsoon season.

I urge the government to take immediate action to address this crisis. Measures such as subsidies, importation of food grains, and assistance to the affected farmers are necessary to stabilize the situation.

I am concerned about the welfare of the people, and I hope the government will act promptly to mitigate the effects of this food crisis.

Yours sincerely,

Di Chenna Reddy

Statement by
Dr Chenna Reddy re Food situation in Hyderabad State

8th January 1954

The present food crisis in the State of Hyderabad is due to the failure of the monsoon rains. The State has experienced a severe drought and as a result, the food production has been severely affected. The State has been forced to purchase food from other States and from abroad to meet the demands of the population.

The Government is taking all possible measures to ensure a stable food supply to the people. The State is also encouraging self-sufficiency in food production by providing necessary assistance to the farmers.

The Government is committed to ensuring that the people have access to food at reasonable prices. The State is taking steps to reduce the prices of essential commodities and to provide relief to those affected by the food crisis.

The Government is also promoting awareness among the people about the importance of food conservation and the measures that can be taken to reduce food wastage.

In conclusion, the Government is fully committed to ensuring that the people of Hyderabad have access to food and that they are not left without food during this difficult period.

Statement by
Dr Chenna Reddy re Food situation in Hyderabad State

21st January 1954

The situation of food in Hyderabad State is critical. The land is not fertile enough to support the population. There is a lack of basic necessities like food, water, and shelter. The government is working on improving the situation, but it requires the support of the people.

Exaggeration

Agricultural production in the state has decreased significantly due to drought and poor rainfall. The government is addressing the issue by providing seeds and irrigation facilities.

Facts and figures

The state has a large population of 10 million people, of which 70% are dependent on agriculture for their livelihood. The state produces rice, wheat, and cotton, which are the main crops.

Competition

There is strong competition among the farmers to sell their produce at the best price. Some farmers are resorting to illegal methods to sell their crops.

In summary, the situation in Hyderabad State is challenging, but with efforts from all, it can be improved.

Suggestions

Dr. Chenna Reddy is suggesting some measures to improve the food situation in Hyderabad State.

He suggests:

1. Measures to increase food production in the state.
2. Distribution of food to the needy.
3. Improvement of agricultural techniques.
4. Encouragement of local food production.
5. Establishment of food depots.

These suggestions aim to address the food shortage and improve the overall food situation in the state.
Statement by Dr. Chenna Reddy on Food situation in Hyderabad State

In the year 1954, Dr. Chenna Reddy addressed the issue of food situation in Hyderabad State. He highlighted the challenges faced by the region, including the need for better agricultural practices and efficient distribution systems. He emphasized the importance of sustainable agriculture to ensure food security for the population. Reddy's speech was a call to action for the government to address these issues and work towards a stable food supply.
Statement by Dr. Chenna Reddy re Food situation in Hyderabad State

8th January 1934

I consider the situation to be serious, and a number of relief measures need to be taken. The increase in prices of essential commodities has been markedly high, and this has been particularly felt in the rural areas. The situation is further complicated by the recent drought, which has affected the agricultural production.

In the rural areas, the price of foodgrains has risen sharply, and this is putting a severe strain on the farmers' ability to purchase necessary inputs. The government should take immediate steps to establish more cheap grain shops to ensure that the poor have access to affordable food.

Deficient areas, which have experienced the worst effects of the drought, require urgent attention. Measures should be taken to ensure that these areas are not left behind in the distribution of relief aid.

It is also important to ensure that the prices of essential commodities are kept under control. The government should take steps to reduce the cost of production and distribution, and ensure that the profits of the traders are not excessive.

Suggestion: The government should consider establishing more cheap grain shops in the deficient areas to ensure that the poor have access to affordable food.

Dr. Chyyna Reddy
on Food Situation in Hyderabad State
8th January 1954

Preparatory to setting up of a co-operative organisation, it is essential to understand the nature of the problem. The situation in Hyderabad State is typical of general conditions prevailing in the country. The agricultural economy is largely based on small holdings, and the farmers are generally poor. The lack of credit facilities has concluded been a major factor in the development of agriculture and the standard of living of the peasants.

The main restrictions are:
1. Restrictions on the purchase of foodgrains by the government.
2. The imposition of various controls and restrictions on the prices of foodgrains.
3. The scarcity of credit facilities.

In order to overcome these problems, it is necessary to:
1. Institute a comprehensive credit system for farmers.
2. Implement a price control policy.
3. Promote the development of agriculture and rural industries.

The government has taken several steps in this direction, such as:
1. Setting up of a co-operative bank.
2. Establishment of a marketing board.
3. Provision of credit facilities to farmers.

These measures have been effective in improving the situation to some extent, but more needs to be done. The farmers require further assistance in the form of adequate credit facilities, better prices for their produce, and improved cultivation practices.

Statement by Dr Chenn Reddy re food situation in Hyderabad state

8th January 1934

In the matter of food, I would like to mention that the food situation in the state of Hyderabad is very critical. The supply of foodstuffs is not sufficient to meet the demands of the population. The situation is worst in the rural areas where the population is dependent on local supplies. The prices of foodstuffs have also increased significantly.

Financial sources

In addition to the normal sources of food supply, we have to rely on emergency measures. The government has taken steps to increase the food supply through emergency measures. The government has also taken steps to control the price of foodstuffs.

Cheap grain shops

The government has set up cheap grain shops in several areas to ensure that the population has access to food at affordable prices.

I would like to request the cooperation of all sections of the society in this critical situation. Together we can overcome this challenge and ensure food security for all.
