1947-1955 Industrial production, (given basis 1930-31) shows a "relatively" steady growth. 1943-44 was a "crisis" year as the "productiveness" of the economy was affected. The "industrial" sector was affected the most. The "mining" sector, however, showed a "positive" growth.

The "mining" sector was granted a "Lease" in 1940. The "lease" was for 1947-1950. The "lease" was for mining operations.

The Government of India is making efforts in this direction. Private management is being encouraged. It is necessary to ensure substantial progress in the private sector. Power project is a significant issue. The development of power projects is essential for industries and other sectors. The power project is being undertaken for Sri M. Satyanarayana Raju's firm. The power project will boost the industries, power consumption, and overall development.

Cottage industries are also being discussed. The power project will significantly help the cottage industries.

The tax system has been discussed, and the suggestion is to make it more convenient and efficient. Public sector, private sector, and mixed sector industries are being highlighted. With the development of the private sector, public limited companies have been introduced. They can enhance the share value or decrease it according to their will and pleasure.

Jugglery with share value increase or decrease is rampant. The private sector development has increased the share value. Public sector firms like The Vishakhapatnam Refinery Ltd. have been discussed. Loss run in share value is a concern. Factory shares or Gamble stock is a concern. Lower share value can decrease the share value. Development of private sector is essential. Public and the Government should work together.

27th July 1955] [Sri S. Narayanappa

The Chancellor, Sir, in the Budget Speech of the State of Karnataka for the year 1955–56, has made a statement regarding the industries and has said that the State will extend assistance to the industries in the form of grants. The total amount of assistance is Rs. 10,000,000, out of which Rs. 5,000,000 will be provided for the establishment of new industries and Rs. 5,000,000 for the expansion of existing industries. The assistance will be provided in the form of share capital to the extent of 50% of the project cost.

However, I would like to mention that the situation is quite different in the case of the State of Karnataka. The State has been facing severe economic difficulties due to the drought and the consequent shortage of irrigation water. The farmers are facing great difficulties in cultivating their crops and the production of food grains is likely to be much lower than the previous year. The State Government has already announced a number of measures to help the farmers and to ensure food supply to the people. But, despite all these efforts, the situation is quite grim.

The State Government has also to face the problem of providing adequate employment to the people. The unemployment rate is very high and there is a great demand for industrial employment. The State Government has to take serious steps to attract industries to the State and to create job opportunities for the people. The Ministry of Industries and Commerce is working on this problem and is making efforts to attract industries to the State.

I would like to urge the State Government to take immediate steps to provide employment to the people. The State Government should take steps to provide adequate irrigation water to the farmers and to ensure food supply to the people. The State Government should also take steps to attract industries to the State and to create job opportunities for the people.

In conclusion, I would like to say that the situation in the State of Karnataka is very difficult and urgent steps are necessary to overcome these difficulties. The State Government should take serious steps to ensure the well-being of the people of the State.

SRI P. BAPAYYA:—There is a demand for 239 rupees in the budget for the development of the co-operative system. But I want to draw your attention to the fact that the cooperative system is already well advanced. The farmers are well aware of the advantages of cooperative societies. The members of the cooperative society are well informed about the benefits they get from such societies.

Therefore, I do not think it is necessary to allocate any additional funds for the development of the co-operative system. Instead, I would like to suggest that the government should focus on the development of the fertiliser industry.

In the past, the government has allocated funds for the development of cooperative societies. But now, I believe that the cooperative system is ready to carry out its own development. Therefore, I suggest that the government should allocate funds for the development of the fertiliser industry
instead.

In conclusion, I would like to say that the co-operative system is already well advanced and therefore, no additional funds are required. On the other hand, the development of the fertiliser industry is crucial for the agricultural sector.

Thank you.

B.A. graduates deserve better facilities for employment. Maternity centres are established, as also insurance arrangements. The unemployed need special facilities. Sri X. Srinivasa Rao explains his views.

Sri P. SATYANARAYANA:—In 1950, the Planning Commission recommended 18 years of schooling. The 18-year plan was not implemented. How can we expect industries to flourish without proper education? Planning Commission must be reconstituted. As far as愤怒 industries are concerned, the 18-year plan is necessary.

Heavy industries in the state sector are under central government. The heavy industries in the state sector are primarily state sector industries. Heavy industries under central government are firmly established. The industrial policy statement of the central government has a significant impact on heavy industries. West Bengal, Bombay, U.P., Punjab, etc. have a high percentage of heavy industries, and the private sector has a significant presence. The private sector is a major component of the economy.

At the strategic points Government should maintain a monopoly of the strategic points. The State capital is a strategic point. Industrial and State sector development is necessary. The State sector should develop the purchasing power of the State owned economy.

Private trade has increased from 38% in 1950 to 76% in 1954.

THE Hon. Sri K. VENKATA RAO:—It is true, and I think it is the duty of the House to remember that a number of demands which have been made and which have been passed as grants have been affected by encroachment upon them. The same has been expressed by other Members.

Mr. Satyanarayana Reddy has expressed it. I am glad to see that the Budget has provided for the increase of the sum of Rs. 8,4 lakhs for the demand for grants, which was increased from Rs. 10 lakhs to Rs. 12 lakhs in the grant. This has been done by the State. The increased grant has been provided for the following purposes:

(1) Establishment of a special college,
(2) Construction of new buildings,
(3) Purchase of necessary equipment.

I am glad to see that the State has not only increased the grant for these purposes but has also taken steps to ensure that the increased grant is utilized in the manner in which it is intended to be used.

In the case of the establishment of a special college, the State has provided for the purchase of land and buildings. In the case of the construction of new buildings, the State has provided for the purchase of necessary equipment. In the case of the purchase of necessary equipment, the State has provided for the purchase of land and buildings. The State has also provided for the purchase of Tourism should be used to improve the standard of living, especially for the poor. Certain areas, such as temples and holy spots, should be developed to attract tourists. In addition, more emphasis should be given to the construction of roads and bridges to facilitate easier access for tourists. The government should also consider the installation of electricity and other modern amenities in these areas. Temporary employment is provided to the employees during the tourist season. A Chief Engineer is appointed to look after the administration of these areas.

In conclusion, the development of tourism is essential for the economic growth of the region. It not only helps in the development of infrastructure but also improves the standard of living of the local population. The government should continue to focus on this important sector.

The Hon. Sri G. LATCHANNA:—Sir, I wish to reserve a general remark under certain points. State Insurance Scheme is a scheme for insurance of workers. State Insurance Scheme for factories is a scheme for insurance of workers in factories. In the past, I have expressed my apprehensions about this scheme. I have shown that the scheme will not be beneficial to the workers. I have explained that the workers will not get sufficient benefits from the scheme. It is also not necessary that the scheme will benefit the workers in the long run. I have also expressed my opinion that the scheme is not necessary.

SIR S. VEMAYYA:—Sir, I wish to support the scheme. I think it is necessary for the workers. It will benefit them in the long run.

The Hon. Sri G. LATCHANNA:—Sir, I think the scheme should be modified. It should be made compulsory for all factories, not only for the factories where the workers are employed. The scheme should be modified so that it benefits the workers.
