... capital is remunerative to the extent that it brings the farmer a return on his investment. However, the returns from agriculture are not always steady or certain. There are seasons when crops fail or yields are low. The farmer's income may depend on the success of his crops. In such cases, supplementary grants can provide a safety net to ensure a steady income.

The farmers are grateful for any assistance that can help them. They welcome any policies that can stabilize their income and provide a better future. They are determined to work hard and succeed in agriculture.

He pointed out that the Government had incurred a surplus of Rs. 7.5 million in 1956-57, which was due to the efficient management of the Fair Price Shop. He suggested that the Government should consider the possibility of increasing the price of the commodities, thereby reducing the surplus for future years.]

Fair price shop

In my initial statement, I referred to the surplus of the Fair Price Shop. I pointed out that the Government had incurred a surplus of Rs. 7.5 million in 1956-57, which was due to the efficient management of the Fair Price Shop. I suggested that the Government should consider the possibility of increasing the price of the commodities, thereby reducing the surplus for future years.

n the meeting the Hon'ble Minister of Finance and the members of the Finance Committee, were present.

The Hon'ble Minister of Finance, in his opening speech, said that the proposals for supplementary grants were based on careful consideration of the financial position of the Government. He said that the Government had been faced with the problem of maintaining the same standard of services as in the past, while at the same time, reducing the burden on the taxpayers. He said that the Government had been careful to ensure that the grants were not used to finance either unnecessary expenditure or to increase the salaries and allowances of civil servants.

The proposals for supplementary grants were, therefore, aimed at maintaining the same standard of services as in the past, while at the same time, reducing the burden on the taxpayers. The proposals were also based on careful consideration of the financial position of the Government, and the need to maintain the same standard of services as in the past, while at the same time, reducing the burden on the taxpayers.
Madam Chairman, while supporting the supplementary demands for grants that have been placed for our consideration, I have certain observations to make. I shall try to restrict as far as possible to the demands placed before us.

Before I go further, I would request the hon. Finance Minister to elucidate me on one point: Under several heads of demands for grants there are items like repayment to the Contingency Fund of advances taken but not recouped in the previous year. Such items are appearing almost under all heads of the demands. I would like to know whether they are actuals that have been spent in 1936-37 or they are budgetted heads which have been copied out. If a clarification is made on this point, I could give my observations thereon.

Sri V. K. Naik. Madam Chairman, while supporting the supplementary demands for grants that have been placed for our consideration, I have certain observations to make. I shall try to restrict as far as possible to the demands placed before us.

Before I go further, I would request the hon. Finance Minister to elucidate me on one point: Under several heads of demands for grants there are items like repayment to the Contingency Fund of advances taken but not recouped in the previous year. Such items are appearing almost under all heads of the demands. I would like to know whether they are actuals that have been spent in 1936-37 or they are budgetted heads which have been copied out. If a clarification is made on this point, I could give my observations thereon.

Dr. B. Gopal Reddy: They are only estimated figures. They are not actuals.

Sri V.K. Naik: Then I have my observations to make. About ten lakhs of rupees have been put in a demand of 22 lakhs. Accounts for 1936-57 must have already come to the department, and I presume that from a Contingency Fund of 60 lakhs, Government must have drawn not more than 4 or 5 lakhs. So as it is, the Government could concede their demand by reducing to the actuals which they have spent. As a matter of fact, Governor sanctions these heads, when the Government put their demands and plead that they have no funds to spend and legislative sanctions are required; they are then authorised to draw from the Contingency Fund.
Our Contingency Fund, as it is, is limited to 60 lakhs. It was originally 40 lakhs, but now it has been enhanced to 60 lakhs. Compared to other States, our Contingency Fund is much less. In U.P. and in Bombay, it is roughly 5 or 4 crores of rupees. My observation therefore in this regard is that we should reduce the demand by at least half of it—Rs. 10 lakhs have been put in a demand of 22 lakhs—on actuals being taken out, and there should be no difficulty in doing that as accounts for 1956-57 have already come. I submit that only the actuals could have been sent to the House and the House asked to sanction only the actuals that have been spent.

A second observation that I would like to make is this: Under the head ‘Grant XLI-Capital Outlay on Multi-Purpose River Schemes’, for item (8) ‘Rightside canal Tunneling Work’, an amount of Rs. 100 only has been shown as the estimate amount of further expenditure for 1957-58. Similarly, under item (13), ‘Heavy Machinery for tunnel works’, an amount of Rs. 100 only has been shown. But on page 14 of the statement, we find that an amount of Rs. 118.92 lakhs has been sanctioned for the excavation of a single tunnel on the rightside canal under item (8), and under item (13), we find that for the purchase of heavy machinery for tunnel works the Government have sanctioned an amount of Rs. 15 lakhs. When thus crores and lakhs have been sanctioned by the Government under the respective items, we have been asked for a token sanction of Rs. 100 under each item, as explained by me, and I fail to understand how it could be constitutional and how the audit department could approve this expenditure by drawal from the Contingency Fund, when only they have asked for a token grant of Rs. 100 under each of the items (8) and (13).

Dr. B. Gopal Reddy: We are only getting the scheme sanctioned by the Legislature, but we are trying to get the monies from the already allotted amounts. Perhaps the hon. Member thinks that there is already a fund that has been passed in the March session of this Legislature. Out of the money so available, the Department expects to incur this expenditure, but since this is a new item, approval for that is being obtained. As far as the money is concerned we shall try to obtain it from the allotment already made.

Sri V. K. Naik: I know. That is what I also understand, but I think within the six months of this period much of the work must have been covered. Out of the amount of
Rs. 60 lakhs that exists, much money must have been spent. The actuals which are required or which have been spent for these schemes could have gone under the particular heads of Industries or under the particular heads of schemes. This is one point. The Budget of the Government of India shows that within the last 7 years they have not drawn a single pie from the Contingency Fund except for Railways and Defence. Similarly, we should also try to establish the convention or practice not to touch the Contingency Fund and should try to apportion our expenditure to the budget heads sanctioned by the Legislature.

Having said this much over these two items, I wish to make certain observations about certain details which could have been placed before the House on the same lines as those given in the original budget estimates which were submitted to the House in the month of March. For example, under ‘Education’ we hear that there is going to be a Mining Institute at Kothagudem. There is an expenditure of Rs. 29,000 which has been asked for this. We do not know as to what the grades or the scales of the staff for this Institute are, or as to how many professors or lecturers the Institute is going to have. We do not even have a summary of the scheme before us. As is done in regard to other budget figures, these details could have been given by Government.

I would conclude my speech with only one general observation. The House is aware the hon. Minister for Finance had stated on the floor of the House during the last session that he would constitute Sales Tax Advisory Boards. The business people are looking forward to the announcement of the Government regarding the constitution of the Sales Tax Advisory Boards. There are a number of difficulties which we had officially represented to the Finance Minister. They have yet to be discussed and certain amendments are also to be discussed. I request the Government to take up this issue and try to solve this problem of the public at large and the industrialists in particular.

Thanking you.

Leader of the Opposition addressed.

The Leader of the Opposition, in his capacity as Leader of the Opposition, appealed for the second time for some grants on account of the Contingency Fund. The Supplementary Grants, which are given for the purpose of meeting unforeseen expenditure, are in fact, a reserve fund. The Leader of the Opposition expressed the hope that the Cabinet would approve the new scheme for providing 12-5% Contingency Fund, instead of the usual system of sanctioning the Contingency Fund. The Leader of the Opposition reminded the Cabinet that the government has already sanctioned a new scheme for providing a new Contingency Fund, 12-10-57, which includes 50% of the demand for Civil Works and 50% of the demand for Civil Grant. The Leader of the Opposition urged the Cabinet to sanction the new scheme for providing a new Contingency Fund.

New services were introduced in the previous year. As such, the question arises as to whether these new services are justified. The new scheme in the financial year 1957-58 is the new scheme for the financial year 1957-58. New schemes were introduced in the previous year for the Hydro Project. The new schemes for the financial year 1957-58 are introduced for the Hydro Project.

Mr. President, Members of the Council,

I move a demand for a sum of Rs. 1,000 for the sanction of 1000 Cut Motions.

During the course of the meeting, a number of Motions have been made. In estimating the sanction, it may be desirable to keep in mind the fact that the Motions have been made by various Members, possibly on different occasions. The sanction of Rs. 1,000 is therefore adequate.

I request the Members to consider the demand and pass it.

Thank you.

It will be seen that the Supplementary Grants are not added, but the control is retained. A new survey of 100 estimates was taken, new surveys being taken at preliminary works

5 new grants were made, of which 6 were for grants in aid, 7 were for Central assistance to States. A new survey of 17 was done, but 17 were not increased, as they were un-productive.

The Hon'ble Member Mr. S.C. Gairola stated that in 1956-57, the Government had introduced small savings scheme which generated 4,00,000 Rs. in Land Revenue. Similarly, this year, the Government has introduced a similar scheme with a target of 10,20,000 Rs.

With the success of the small savings scheme, the Government has now introduced Savings Certificates with a similar objective. These Certificates are expected to generate a substantial amount of money, which can be used for welfare purposes.

Mr. D. M. R. V. N. G. M. stated that the Hon'ble Member had made some valuable suggestions. However, the Government was cautious about implementing such schemes as they required careful planning.

The Hon'ble Member Mr. S.C. Gairola thanked the Hon'ble Member for his suggestions and assured that the Government would consider them carefully before implementing any new scheme.

No doubt it is necessary to make a statement. The demands were not entirely sound. The following were the main points.

The first point was that the existing grants should be increased. Any increase in the existing grants would be a vote on account. The second point was that the annual grants should be increased. The third point was that the existing grants should be increased. The fourth point was that the existing grants should be increased.

General Discussion on Demands for Supplementary Grants for 1937-38.

Firstly, I feel it is my duty to bring to your notice the fact that the sums you have allocated to the Department of Experiment is small. The sum allocated to this Department is only £10,300, whereas the demand submitted by the Department is £10,300. It is necessary that we should allocate a larger sum to this Department.

The Department of Experiment is responsible for carrying out research and experiments in various fields. The Department has submitted a demand of £10,300 for the year 1937-38. The allocation of a larger sum is essential for the proper functioning of the Department.

Secondly, I would like to draw your attention to the fact that the Department of Experiment has not been given adequate funds in the past. The Department has been operating with a limited budget, which has hindered its progress.

The Department of Experiment has been working on various projects, such as the development of new crops, the improvement of existing crops, and the study of the environment. The Department has made significant contributions to the field of agriculture and has been successful in many of its experiments. However, the Department requires additional funds to undertake more experiments and to expand its research activities.

I would like to urge you to provide adequate funds to the Department of Experiment so that it can continue its important work. The Department is essential for the development of agriculture in our country and for the benefit of the farmers. I hope that you will take this matter seriously and allocate a larger sum to the Department of Experiment.

Mockery is also a source of ridicule and嘲讽. It is a way of mocking or ridiculing something or someone. Such mockery is often used to belittle or undermine the credibility of an argument or a person. It is important to avoid using mockery as a means of persuasion or communication.
