ANDHRA PRADESH LEGISLATIVE ASSEMBLY

Friday, the 14th March, 1958.

The House met at Half Past Eight of the Clock.

[MR. SPEAKER IN THE CHAIR]

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS

(See Part I)

REFERENCE TO THE APPOINTMENT OF
DR. B. GOPALA REDDY, AS MINISTER OF STATE IN THE CENTRE.
POINT OF ORDER REGARDING CRITICISING TRIBUNALS

[14th March, 1958]

The Hon'ble Speaker said: Sir, today, a number of honorable Members have raised issues regarding Criticising Tribunals. Hon'ble Members have pointed out that various Tribunals have been established to ensure justice. It is a well-known fact that these Tribunals are established under the provisions of various Acts and are expected to function in an impartial manner. However, it has been observed that some Hon'ble Members have been criticising the functioning of these Tribunals.

Hon'ble Members have raised concerns that such criticism could undermine the impartiality of these Tribunals. They have stated that it is important to ensure that these Tribunals function without external interference. It has been suggested that criticism of Tribunals should be avoided to maintain their integrity.

In this context, the Hon'ble Speaker expressed concern over the recent criticism of Tribunals. It was noted that such criticism could have serious implications for the functioning of these Tribunals. The Hon'ble Speaker pointed out that the integrity of these Tribunals is crucial for the administration of justice.

The Hon'ble Speaker concluded by emphasizing the importance of ensuring the impartiality of Tribunals. He appealed to Hon'ble Members to refrain from criticising these Tribunals to maintain their integrity and ensure the effective administration of justice.

... constitution 6th amendment...

“No discussion shall take place in the Legislature of a State with respect to the conduct of any Judge of the Supreme Court or of a High Court in the discharge of his duties.”

[13th March, 1958]
14th March, 1958]

Judges of the Judicial Officers of the Legislative Assembly are required to discuss the matters before them, in accordance with Rule 217 of the Andhra Assembly Rules. The scope of this rule is to limit the conduct of members while speaking.

"Limitations on debates:—Every speech must be strictly relevant to the matter before the Assembly.

217 Rules to be observed by members while speaking:

A member, while speaking, shall not:

(iv) reflect upon the conduct of the President or Governor or any Court of Justice".

Section 106 of the Constitution defines "Ultra-vires" as any act done in excess of power. The reference to "ultra vires" in the context of the President or Governor or any Court of Justice is relevant.

India Constitution 1950 and the article framing the Constitution are discussed in this Rule. Section 106 of the Constitution is also relevant in this context.

The point of order raised was about the conduct of the President or Governor or any Court of Justice, in relation to Rule 217(4).

[14th March, 1958]

Any Court of Justice" has clear scope, as the wording is clear without ambiguity. Rule 217(4) of the Andhra Assembly Rules ultra-vires the Article 211 as framed in the Constitution. Therefore, the discussed Article 211 is ultra-vires the Constitution.

"No discussion shall take place in the Legislature of a State with respect to the conduct of any Judge of the Supreme Court or of a High Court in the discharge of his duties."

The Constitution limits the powers of the Legislature with respect to the conduct of any Judge of the Supreme Court or of a High Court in the discharge of his duties. High Court Judges and Supreme Court Judges are subject to the Constitution, and their conduct is limited by the Constitution. The House Rules frame the procedure and the conduct of the business.

"...with respect to the conduct of any Judge of the Supreme Court or of a High Court in the discharge of his duties."

The Constitution as framed in Article 211 limits the powers of the Legislature. Rules frame the procedure, and the Constitution as framed in Article 208 limits the powers of the Legislature. Indonesia Constitution also limits the powers of the Legislature.

"208 (1) A House of the Legislature of a State may make rules for regulating, subject to the provisions of this Constitution, its procedure and the conduct of its business."

The Constitution as framed in Article 208 limits the powers of the Legislature. Procedure is subject to the provisions of the Constitution. The Constitution as framed in Article 211 limits the powers of the Legislature. Supreme Court Judges conduct is subject to the Constitution. Constitution as framed in Article 208 limits the powers of the Legislature.
14th March, 1958]

The Minister for Planning (Sri V. B. Raju): What the hon. Member has contended is that the rule relating to the subject is ultra-vires of the Articles of the Constitution and he mentioned that the rules must be framed subject to the provisions of the Articles of the Constitution. What is said in the Constitution is that the conduct of High Court Judges and Supreme Court Judges shall not be questioned. Supposing, we make a rule that their conduct could be questioned, then it becomes ultra-vires. There is no bar or impediment before the Assembly to impose or to have self-restraint. Supposing, the hon. Assembly decides that we shall not discuss this or that, that is not ultra-vires. It is self-imposed restraint. It is only to keep the dignity and the level of debate in the House that we have some restraint on us. And I think we are perfectly within the purview and within the limits that have been imposed on us, and it is never ultra-vires.

_Sri M. Rajeswara Rao (Davi-Reserved)_: Mr. Speaker, Sir. If I remember correct, the comment made was with regard to the appointment of judges made by the Government and not with regard to the discharge of functions by the judges after they are appointed. So, this is only by way of clarification before the hon. Speaker gives his ruling. I request that the ruling may also have a reference to this point.

_Sri V. B. Raju_: I think there is a point of Order raised by an hon. Member. I submit that a ruling should be given first on that, and the subject matter relating to the speech may be taken up later on. These two things are quite different.

In the circumstances, it is submitted, on the basis of the above figures, that a ceiling of Rs. 19 crores should be sanctioned. This would allow for an increase of Rs. 2 crore over the previous year's allocation. The Special Officer is requested to develop these allocations for Staff, Medicines, Beds, etc.

In this connection, fresh amounts should be allotted for the development of Bezwada, Mysore, Madras, Tirupati, Vishakapatnam, and Kerala. The Central Government Grant has been allocated in the memorandum submitted.

Civil Services had a reputation, chiefly self-propagated, for efficiency. But it became evident that out of the narrow sphere of work to which they had been accustomed, they were helpless and incompetent; they had no training to function democratically and could not gain the good-will and co-operation of the people whom they both feared and despised; they had no conception of big and vast schemes of social progress and could only hamper them by their red-tape and lack of imagination. Apart from certain individuals, this applies to both British and Indian Members of the Civil Services. It was extraordinary how unfit they are for the new tasks that face them.

The Budget Demands for Grants

BUDGET - DEMANDS FOR GRANTS

The budget demands for grants are presented for the fiscal year ending 31 March 1958. The demands cover various heads of expenditure, including defense, education, health, and welfare. The total budget demands amount to Rs. 300 million. The allocations are made based on the priorities and needs of the country. The details of the budget demands are as follows:

- Defense: Rs. 50 million
- Education: Rs. 100 million
- Health: Rs. 50 million
- Welfare: Rs. 50 million
- Other: Rs. 50 million

The budget demands are reviewed annually and presented to the parliament for approval. The government is committed to ensuring that the funds are effectively utilized to meet the development needs of the country.

The heads of states have been informed about the budget demands, and they have been requested to consider the needs of their respective countries. The government is keen on mobilizing resources from various sources, including international aid, to support the budget demands.

The budget demands are a reflection of the government's commitment to sustainable development and improving the lives of its citizens. The government is committed to ensuring that the budget demands are achieved in a timely and efficient manner.

discussed group politics in brief. He said, every section where the group politics was made a stir and agitations followed. Hence, at this juncture, it was necessary to prevent further stirrings. The important aspect was to ensure that the group politics was not allowed to spread. Hence, officers of various ranks were directed to prevent such stirrings.

The integration of laws and regulations was discussed in detail. It was necessary that all the laws and regulations were uniform. The Heads of Departments were accordingly directed to ensure that the laws and regulations were uniformly followed. It was also necessary to ensure that the seniority of the Electrical Chief Engineer was respected. The Director of Public Health and the Director were also directed to ensure that the seniority was respected.

The retirements of various officers were discussed. The senior officer of extension was to be given first. The seniority of the Heads of Departments was to be ignored in such cases. The retirement of N.G.Os. was also discussed.

The N.G.Os. were to be treated as staff. The seniority of the N.G.Os.

National Savings Scheme

14th March, 1958]

National Savings Scheme aims to increase savings. Public borrowing is a matter of concern. Generally speaking, new issues have been encouraged with tax concessions. However, the public has been lagging behind the target. N. E. S and C. D. Blocks in borrowing have been lagging behind the targets. Efficiency needs improvement. The National Savings Scheme focuses on realising Rs.1.30 billion. The blocks are not maintaining the standard and are falling short of the targets. The blocks are not maintaining the efficiency and adding to the inefficiency.
National Savings Scheme targets need to be realised successfully.

Standard level needs to be maintained. The blocks are low level maintenance. The blocks have not maintained the dignity.

In essence, the National Savings Scheme is not maintaining the standard and is falling short of the targets. The blocks are not maintaining the efficiency and adding to the inefficiency.

The text appears to be in an Asian script, likely Telugu, which is a South Indian language. The document seems to be a page from a budgetary or financial report, likely discussing demands for grants. Due to the nature of the content and the script, a precise translation or transcription is not possible without advanced context or language-specific knowledge. However, the general context of the document suggests it might be discussing the financial needs or demands for grants, possibly for a specific project or initiative. The text includes various numerical and possibly institutional or governmental references, indicating a formal and official tone.

As there is no format that can accurately render the script, a digital translation or transcription for this document is not possible through this platform. For detailed analysis or translation, a linguist or machine capable of handling Telugu script would be required.

of Police, and other similar institutions. Moreover, in the light of the technical changes in the field of police work, a greater demand for technical training programmes is required. In this context, the demand for training programmes in general is not only essential but also necessary. In fact, the demand for training programmes in police work is on the increase. In this regard, the Government has been providing training programmes for police officers. However, the demand for training programmes is not only for police officers but also for other personnel in the police department. Therefore, it is essential to have a greater demand for training programmes in police work.

BUDGET - DEMANDS FOR GRANTS

The complicated issue regarding the final decision of the economy committee is a process that involves R.I. and R.D.O. However, the repeat decision by R.I. in the various files is a complicated matter. The Economy Committee is the primary decision-making body, and the experience of Heads of the Departments is crucial. The administration is affected by the paralysis in the economy committee's decision. The delay in execution work is a concern for the Executive Officers. Files, tours, and public functions are essential for maintaining efficiency and waste.
