The quality of work as far as these napa slabs are concerned has also not been very satisfactory. Even the planning and execution of irrigation projects seem to have been neglected. The estimates committee report points out that the quality of work, as far as these napa slabs are concerned, has not been very satisfactory. Even the black-market campaigns have not been successful. The red-hand black-market seems to have been prevalent. The contractors and engineers seem to have profited from the campaigns. The government seems to have approved the red-hand black-market. The black-market has been a source of profit to the contractors. The irrigation projects seem to have been neglected. K.C. Canal has not been completed. The estimates committee report points out that the quality of work has not been satisfactory. Even the M.L.A.m has not been satisfied. The black-market campaigns have not been successful. The cement is being supplied at a higher price. The concrete lining is being done with a 1:4:8 proportion. The cement concrete lining is being done with a 1:4:8 proportion. The concrete lining is being done with a 1:4:8 proportion. The quality of work has not been very satisfactory.
Special Chief Engineer in his evidence has very clearly stated that the work of the napa slabs has been most unsatisfactory.

A margin of 20 per cent between the tenders accepted in the first year and those accepted in the second year goes to prove that the estimates made by the Department have little basis to stand upon.

At three different stages, different and conflicting information was given to the Committee which could have been avoided. The Committee had to adjourn several times in order to get correct information.

The conclusion to which the Committee was forced to come was that it was mainly due to the poor quality of work shown on the spot, and to the fact that cement in large quantity was easily available in the market during the construction period of this canal, and that this question requires thorough probe and also requires some suitable steps to check it.

The Committee failed to understand that when nearly half a dozen of these persons were present on the occasion of mixing in the required proportion of the cement how could cement bags in abundance be available in the market and the quality of work so poor.

The Committee feels that the Department has definitely gone wrong in granting the contract to an individual for the construction of the dam which involves a huge amount without calling for tenders and arbitrarily fixing not only the Luxettipet rates but also giving 170 per cent extra over the D.S. R.
project workout of the dam. The project would involve the construction of a dam to stop the washout of the soil. The supervision of the project would be under the Engineer. The cost of the project is estimated to be Rs. 100 crores.

[Srimathi T. Lakishmi Kanthamma in the Chair]

The project would involve the construction of a dam to stop the washout of the soil. The supervision of the project would be under the Engineer. The cost of the project is estimated to be Rs. 100 crores.

Gazetted Officers 10.30 am. The members of the Assembly were given an opportunity to discuss the project.

Mr. M. L. A., who was advocating for the Chief Minister, was in favor of the Prime Minister. The members of the opposition were against the project.

Mr. A. High Court ruling was against the project. The Speaker referred the matter to the High Court.
Court appellates to High Court and High Court decision on House meeting. The High Court decision was not considered effective. "Chief Minister should not do it. It is our responsibility" was the view of the court. The information given was not correct. The General discussion on the Budget for the year 1959 (0).

Political discrimination was emphasized in the debate. The M.L.As, as well as the opposition members, strongly objected to the practice of political discrimination. It was argued that this practice was a violation of fundamental rights and that it went against the principles of a democratic society. The M.L.As, particularly M.L. As, expressed their concern that this practice was undermining the integrity of the democratic process and demoralizing the social workers who were expected to work on a non-political basis.

The Party basis and the exclusion of opposition members were also discussed. It was pointed out that the practice of excluding opposition members could lead to the formation of a monolithic party structure, which would be detrimental to the growth of a healthy democratic society. The M.L.As called for a more inclusive approach to party politics, one that would ensure the participation of all members of the society in the decision-making process.

General Discussion on the Budget for the Year 1959-60.

Madam Chairwoman, I congratulate the hon. Finance Minister for the balanced budget he has presented to the House. And the Budget speech of the hon. Minister clearly shows how our State has been progressing every year and that the financial position of our State is very sound. As we all know, our State is the biggest of all the southern States and we have great responsibilities to shoulder. Before the reorganisation of States, we thought that a big Andhra Pradesh State would not only be a source of strength financially to the people of Andhra as a whole, but it would also be a source of strength to the whole country. And the two years after the reorganisation have justified our hopes and we feel proud that in many matters our State has advanced.

The main allotment in the Budget is for the Nagajunasagar project which is one of the biggest multi-purpose projects in the country. We are glad to see that our Government has ear-marked about Rs. 7.0 crores this year for this project. Besides, the Government has also ear-marked more than Rs. 4.0 crores for minor irrigation works because minor irrigation works are very important in Telangana and Rayalaseema. I hope that we will be able to fully utilize this provision within this year and that our Engineers and the concerned department will not allow even a single pie to lapse, and from the beginning of the financial year itself their activities, such as calling for tenders, etc., would start.

The budget shows improvement in many fields. So far as Telangana is concerned, we are happy that the estimates are prepared in a good way. We have seen progress everywhere in the villages and there is progress in the educational field. The food situation also has improved. Therefore, Sir, I heartily support the budget presented by the hon. Finance Minister. And I hope that the provisions in the budget would be utilized fully within this year and our Government under the able leadership will take our State to better prosperity on par with other States of India. Thank you.

Pay Committee on non-gezetted representation

The Pay Committee had submitted a report on the non-gezetted representation issue. In the Committee's opinion, 3 more non-gezetted employees should be given representation in the budget. Accordingly, the budget for 1959-60 included a provision for 3 more non-gezetted employees to have representation in the budget. However, the government did not agree with this proposal, stating that it was not feasible given the current financial situation. As a result, the proposal was not included in the budget.

The government had already introduced a scheme to improve efficiency in the government's functioning. Papers were moved electronically, and the number of meetings had been reduced to improve efficiency. A report on the efficiency scheme was submitted to the government. It was agreed that the scheme was working well, and the government would continue to implement it.

The government had also introduced a new system to manage the budget. It included a provision to allocate funds to various departments. However, the government had to make some adjustments to the budget to meet the current financial situation. As a result, the budget was not able to meet all the demands of the various departments.

Sri S. Ranganatha Mudaliar (Ramakrishna Rajupeta): Madam, the budget under discussion has been variously described in the press as 'fear-free budget', 'balanced budget' 'a drab budget' and 'a tame budget' and so on, but the implication of the sum-total of these criticisms is that it is a re-assuring budget against which nothing positively hostile can be said. In this respect, the hon. Finance Minister deserves our congratulations. This is the first time that a balanced budget has been achieved in this State. It is an ordinary proposition that a deficit budget is a sign of progress and so a State like ours whose objective is overall progress cannot afford a balanced budget; but that need not cause us any anxiety at present, for with the prospect of rise in the State revenues, any amount of expenditure on any Plan need not cause us any anxiety. There is the added comfort that there are to be no fresh taxation proposals, but that does not mean the Government have bound themselves not to impose taxation in the near future. As we all know, the cry of the time and the slogan of all the parties are couched in such catch-phrases like 'political progress', 'economic uplift' and 'social welfare of the ordinary man' and these slogans and cries pre-suppose a furtherance of development plans and they necessarily require money and money must come from fresh taxation. For the present, the deficit is only Rs. 37 lakhs. The hon. Minister has stated that this deficit will be met from the proceeds of the change in the rate structure of taxation to be imposed on goods and passengers carried by motor vehicles. That source seems to fetch us a surplus of Rs. 75 lakhs and this would not only enable the deficit of Rs. 37 lakhs to be wiped out, but also there would be a surplus of about Rs. 38 lakhs. This fact taken along with the announcement that a full year provision of Rs. 3 crores is made to meet the recommendations of the Pay Committee is conducive to general satisfaction; though it is doubtful whether Rs. 3 crores will be sufficient and also whether the N. G. Os. will accept the recommendations so far made.
While liberal provision has been made for advances to cultivaters, the provision made for industrial and low income group housing scheme is pittably low. Only a sum of Rs. 45 lakhs has been provided in this regard which I fear will hardly be sufficient to meet the increasing demands. The hon. Finance Minister has referred to the Small Savings with regard to which, according to his own admissions, the position is very unsatisfactory. The name 'Small Savings' is an euphemism for forced contribution from merchants, contractors, cinema operators and bus operators levied by officers connected with the departments which deal with those subjects e.g. Sales Tax Department, Revenue Department, Motor Transport Department etc. My contention is, the Small Saving Scheme has not touched the ordinary man and the woman in the rural area; nor has it touched the man and woman of the labour class in the urban areas for whose benefit the scheme was originally conceived.

Provision made for the welfare of the Harijans and the Backward Classes deserves some mention. The distinction between the Harijans and the outcastes is still being maintained and I feel it rather unfortunate in as much as it tends to the perpetuation of caste-consciousness and caste-alooofness which, ironically enough, receives strength from the various benefits attached to these communities statutorily. The provision made for the Harijan Welfare is liberal enough, but the provision made for the improvement of Backward Classes is rather more in the nature of a dol. Only Rs. 21 lakhs have been provided for the advance of these Backward Classes, whose names, we know, are so innumerable, and I fear it is a drop in the ocean. There are other classes who are really backward, but who do not come technically within the definition of the Harijans or Backward Classes Government's, how has discovered the existence of such classes and they have come forward to their aid though in a limited measure. On this account the Government deserve praise at our hands.
[Mr. Speaker In The Chair]

The results of the Economy Committee are anxiously awaited by all well-meaning men. It remains to be seen how far the labours of the Economy Committee will result in effecting economy at all levels and increasing efficiency in Government administration. An unfortunate omission, which is a rather conspicuous omission, is the absence of any reference to minor irrigation schemes in the Budget speech. Probably, the cause is, the State is so much project-minded that it has evidently forgotten references to minor irrigation schemes. Projects may be all right in their own way, but there are Districts like Chittoor and Srikakulam and other places where minor irrigation sources are absolutely necessary and without which there can be no progress at all. Any amount that we may spend on projects will be all right, but if only projects are developed, the development in the country will be lopsided and you will have very fertile areas on one side and very backward, barren and dry areas, on the other. People like us who belong to Districts like Chittoor will have no salvation if our present welfare, happiness and resources are mortgaged for the benefit and happiness of unborn generations by expecting us to pay in the form of taxes etc. only for the development of the projects.

We are also entitled to live and we want to have some benefits. It will be no consolation to us if we are told 'look here, look there; great projects are in progress; 20 years hence, milk and honey will flow in our country'. That is no consolation for us who are starving. Side by side with the projects, it is absolutely necessary that minor irrigation projects should be given equal attention. There must be a balanced progress and not a lopsided development. Therefore, I appeal to the Finance Minister not to forget this essential need of dry areas like Chittoor. If our projects are completed—no, not to omit the minor irrigation schemes, which I put on a level higher, than the projects—with all such projects completed and all minor irrigation schemes successfully implemented, the Andhra Pradesh will have no food problem in the future. There will be no famine at any time, it is hoped, in Andhra Pradesh, and I am sure Andhra Pradesh will become the granary of the East. How soon such a state of affairs will come about depends upon, as the Finance Minister put it, our continuous alertness, vigilance, hard work and sacrifice.

Thank you.

The Government symbolises a political party. But the State symbolises the people. The Head of the State addresses the people. The speech delivered by the Governor or the statement issued by the Governor, acquires the authority and the character and the dignity of the State. But today by dispensing with the speech of the Governor, the Government have identified itself with the State.

The King makes a speech according to the dictation of the Prime Minister of the day.

by the Prime Minister dictate, with the proper sanctity. As the Prime Minister is the representative, the nakedness which is condemned in the totalitarian terms is not considered a sin, but is said to be a virtue.
the year 1959-60. As Sir D. K. T. observed, "the monky of the mind still persists. The budget must be a mammoth opposition to the proposals of the party, not for the people, but by the people, for the people. The budget of the party, by the party, for the party. The budget must be a mammoth opposition to the proposals of the party, not for the people, but by the people, for the people. The budget of the party, by the party, for the party. The budget must be a mammoth opposition to the proposals of the party, not for the people, but by the people, for the people. The budget of the party, by the party, for the party.
We are prepared to prove to the hilt. We have always maintained that the Opposition is a partisan attitude and geographical disintegration in the opposition will mean a constant and incessant state of Civil War and a geographical disintegration in the opposition will mean a constant and incessant state of Civil War. We are prepared to prove to the hilt.
