BUSINESS OF THE HOUSE

Mr. C. R. Krishna Murthy: The Hon'ble Minister should have informed the House about the facts and figures of the recent tragedy. Since 1952-53, the Government has been following a policy of reducing the number of Government boats. In 1952-53, there were 11 boats carrying 450 passengers; in 1953-54, there were 9 boats carrying 400 passengers; in 1954-55, there were 5 boats carrying 30 passengers. This is a matter of grave concern. What steps are being taken to improve the situation?

Mr. P. S. R. V. V. Rajam: I second the amendment.

Mr. A. M. S. Narasimha Reddy: This is a boat tragedy. The Minister should report the facts of the tragedy.

The meeting was addressed by Mr. A. B. C., who drew attention to the serious problem of waste lands in the area. He pointed out that the need for more intensive cultivation of these lands was urgent. The present method of cultivation was not sufficient to meet the demand for food and other essential items. Mr. C. proposed that a committee be appointed to study the problem and make recommendations for its solution. The meeting requested the Forest department to take immediate steps to address the issue.

Afforestation

The meeting also discussed the issue of afforestation. Mr. D. E. F. suggested that the Forest department should be encouraged to plant more trees in the area. Resolution re: Distribution of cultivable waste lands

Land policy is to be changed to suit the conditions of the land. The earlier policy of failing to give land to farmers for cultivation should be cancelled. The policy of land distribution should be changed to ensure that the farmers receive land that is suitable for cultivation. The policy of giving land to marginal farmers should be revised to ensure that the land is distributed fairly. The policy of land distribution should be made more effective to ensure that the farmers receive land that is suitable for cultivation.
