Calling attention to matters of urgent Public Importance re Communal riots in Kohir town

The Hindus of Kohir in Medak District, like those in other places in this region, have a convention of taking out a procession of bullock carts just before the commencement of the agricultural season on the full moon day of the month of 'Joshia' of Saka era, corresponding to the 9th June, 1960.

On 9—6—1960, at about 4 30 p.m., the procession consisting of eleven bullock carts belonging to Hindus started from the residence of Sri Ramachandra Rao Deshpande, a village leader, towards the Darga of Moizuddin Saheb situated at a distance of about half-a-mile from the outskirts of the town towards the west. The cart of Ramachandra Rao Deshpande leading the procession passed through the main bazaar on which the local Jamma Masjid is situated with music and reached the Darga peacefully by about 6.30 p.m. When the procession passed the local Jamma Masjid on its way to the Darga there was no objection for the music.

H. C. 449, Syed Abdul Hassan, who was in charge S. H. O., along with S. P. O., was on bandobust duty with the procession.

After reaching the Darga at about 6.30 p.m., the procession resumed its return journey after an interval of more than one hour through the same route. When the procession reached a spot at a distance of about one furlong from the local Jamma Masjid at about 9.00 p.m., the S. H. O. in charge of the bandobust party got information of some trouble brewing in the mosque. Some people approached him and informed him that music should not be played when the procession passed before the mosque. Meanwhile, the S. B. H. O. 258, Shafuddin, secured information that the one collected for the prayers and that the prayer time was also over.

When the procession was within 50 to 100 yard of the mosque, the S. H. O. in charge of the bandobust party, to reassure himself, entered the mosque and found a large number of youngsters of the Muslim community standing within the mosque. He tried to calm the people, but when they refused to desist from obstructing the processions, the S. H. O. 258, Shafuddin, who was accompanying the procession, also reached the mosque and restored peace. He then took the leadership of the procession and proceeded through the streets. When the procession approached the multi...

gate of Jamma Masjid, a large number of people with sticks came out of the mosque suddenly and demanded that musce should be stopped. While the S H O, was trying to prevent a clash, the Muslim group assembled in the mosque started to pelt stones at the procession, having gained advantageous positions over the house-tops and abandoned tenements adjacent to the mosque. This caused a complete confusion and led to the breaking up of the procession in all directions and into the by-lanes. The clash resulted in injuries to some of the processionists and also to L.H C. and two P Os. The violent Muslims also damaged 8 of the bullock carts which were abandoned by the processionists. After the tumultuous scene, the Muslims are said to have withdrawn to their Mahallas behind the mosque and the Hindu residents of the area were disturbed by the sudden developments.

When the S. H O in charge found that overwhelming numbers of both communities wild with excitement and the situation was uncontrollable he deputed a special messenger, P O 425, Nazir, with instructions to inform C I or S I , Zahirabad for necessary action. But as both of them were reported to be out of headquarters, the C I having left for Momumpete Police station of Hyderabad district for a border meeting on 10—6—60, and the latter having gone out of headquarters on other duty, the messenger proceeded to Sangareddy, the District headquarters for giving the information to the D. S. P.

At about 2.00 a.m., when Sri Shankerlal, a local leader of Hindu community and a Municipal Councillor, tried to persuade the groups to disperse, the Muslims of the locality rushed out of mosque and attacked him and ran in different parts of the town in groups shouting slogans. The groups of Muslims who dispersed thus attacked the houses in different localities causing damage to the doors by pelting stones, breaking of the utensils, damaging Mosques at the well etc., belonging to Hindu community. They also attacked the inmates in the houses and caused injuries to Harijans and Baipats with sticks etc.

The D. S. P. Sangareddy on getting information about this at 3.00 a.m. on 10—6—60 through P. C. 425 rushed to the scene with D. P. K. Patil and reached Kohir at about 5.00 a.m. and took charge of the situation. The Collector, Medak, who was present there, reached the scene about 11.00 a.m. at the request of the D. S. P. A special team of the Police was despatched by the Commissioner of Police, Hyderabad to investigate the incident.
took steps to round up potential trouble-mongers belonging to the Muslim community. He detained altogether 57 persons under Section 151 Cr. P. C.

Out of 47 persons injured in the riot, 4 persons who received serious injuries were removed to Headquarters hospital, Sangareddy. The rest were treated at Kohir by the local Medical Officer. The Collector, Medak, on requisition, secured the services of another Doctor from Zahirabad and also Ambulance units on the same day.

On receipt of specific complaints from the victims of the various unlawful acts of the Muslim groups, cases have been registered on 10—6—60 and 11—6—60 and altogether 19 persons concerned with specific offences have been arrested and remanded to custody. As regards the principle offence of rioting before the mosque and causing hurt to persons and damage to properties, a case was registered by the police and the C. I. was instructed to investigate it.

Steps were taken to maintain peace by posting pickets and organising mobile patrols round the clock in the entire village. The force deployed for this purpose was 3 platoons in all—one from the S. A. R., C. P. L. and the other from the D. A. R. The Collector also promulgated orders under Section 144 Cr. P. C. till 16—6—60.

On obtaining proposals from the Collector, Medak, an amount of Rs. 1,063.75 was sanctioned in C.O.Ms. No. 394. C.A.—General. A date of 30th June towards distress relief and compensation to the persons who received injuries and suffered loss of belongings etc., during the rioting at Kohir on 9—6—60. The discretion of paying the amount to the affected persons was given to the Collector.

The situation is under control and no further incidents have occurred since then.
Papers laid on the Table of the House
6th July, 1950
The annual reports on the working and affairs of the Hyderabad Pictures Ltd.

As regards the statement made by the Member in the Notice that it was the Razakars, who indulged in the rioting and carried out the assault on persons and damage to properties and that having opened the branches of the organisations in many taluks, the President of the Ittehadul-Musalmyn has declared that they want to reach the goal of Khasim Razvi, the enquiries revealed that there is no evidence that the Razakars were behind the incident. The local Muslims are reported to have refuted the statement of the General Secretary of the Anjuman-e-Ittehadul Muslimin, Hyderabad that the Aryasamajists were responsible for the communal trouble. Some unsocial elements among the local Muslims appear to have been responsible for the incident. It is also revealed that no such statement that the Razakars want to reach the goal of Razvi is reported to have been made by the President of the Ittehadul Muslimin.

As regards the opening of branches at all taluks, it is stated that the Ittehadul Musalmyn has branches outside the Hyderabad City, only in Mahabubnagar and Shadnagar in Mahabubnagar district.

In the circumstances stated above, the allegations made by the Member in the notice of motion do not seem to be correct.

Thank You, Sir.

Sir,

I have the honour to draw your attention to the following:

(a) Agriculture is the life-blood of the country. It is the backbone of the economy. The growth of agriculture is essential for the development of the country. The agricultural sector is the largest employer of the country. It provides livelihood to millions of people. The agricultural sector is the backbone of the country's economy. It is the largest employer of the country. It provides livelihood to millions of people.

(b) The government has taken several measures to improve the agricultural sector. These measures include:

(i) Providing financial assistance to farmers for the purchase of agricultural inputs.

(ii) Providing irrigation facilities to farmers.

(iii) Providing credit facilities to farmers.

(iv) Providing technical assistance to farmers.

(c) However, despite these measures, the agricultural sector is facing several challenges. These challenges include:

(i) Lack of adequate irrigation facilities.

(ii) Lack of credit facilities.

(iii) Lack of technical assistance.

(d) The government is aware of these challenges. It is working to address them. It is working to improve the agricultural sector. It is working to make it a vibrant sector.

Yours faithfully,

The peasant masses were thus organised and put on their feet. They were made to feel that they were part of Government and shared in its authority. In the process, the Government and the Communist Party which were already so close to the people, came still nearer to the peasants and this enabled them later to bring about a transformation of the Chinese agrarian economy.

The reform of the land system, which was mainly responsible for the extreme poverty in the rural areas of Japan, was carried out under the auspices and with the support of the American occupation authorities. As a result, the reform has some times been discredited as alien to the country.

"By an irony of history, a conservative American General advised by an American liberal of Russian origin introduced reform measures in Japan from which so many villages benefited that they seem irreversible now. As a result, the agricultural scene has been changed beyond recognition."

Agricultural Holdings Bill, 1960

Average incomes are now close to Rs 5,000/- per farm household, an achievement unheard of anywhere else in Asia. The figures are as follows:

- 10,000
- 14,000
- 15,000
- 18,000

These figures are based on the study of over 1,000 farms across the state. The average income for these farms is Rs 15,000.

The success of this bill is attributed to the cooperative movement and the efforts of the government to provide support and infrastructure to the farmers. The bill has also helped in the development of new agricultural techniques and the adoption of modern farming methods.

In conclusion, the implementation of the Agricultural Holdings Act has been a significant step towards the development of the agriculture sector in Andhra Pradesh. The results have been impressive and have set an example for other states to follow.

The Andhra Pradesh Ceiling on Agricultural Holdings Act, 1950

6th July, 1960

The Act provides for the ceiling of family holdings, exemptions, and the classification of holdings into different categories. The Act aims to prevent the accumulation of agricultural land by wealthy individuals and to ensure that land is available for small farmers.

Exemptions are provided for certain types of holdings, such as holdings used for educational, religious, or charitable purposes. The Act also provides for the classification of holdings into different categories based on their size and the amount of land held.

The Act has been in effect since its enactment in 1950 and has been amended several times to address changes in the agricultural sector and to ensure that the provisions remain relevant.

The Act is intended to promote fair and equitable distribution of agricultural land, ensuring that land is available for small farmers and that the interests of the rural population are protected.

The Andhra Pradesh Ceiling on Agricultural Holdings Bill, 1960

The Honourable Government of the State of Andhra Pradesh has been satisfied that it is necessary in the public interest to enact a law to prevent the concentration of land in few hands at the expense of the agriculturists and to promote the economic development of the people of the State. In this connection, the Government of India has sanctioned a scheme whereby the land of individual landowners or the land of persons other than agriculturists or persons carrying on any business for profit or gain, which is above certain prescribed limits, is to be urgently acquired by the Government and distributed among the agriculturists in the State. The Government of Andhra Pradesh has, therefore, decided to formulate a scheme for the implementation of this scheme.

A. Procedure for Determination of Ceiling Limit

The ceiling limit for agricultural land is defined as the maximum permissible area of land which an individual landowner or a person other than an agriculturist may possess. The ceiling limit is determined based on the following factors:

1. Size of the landholding
2. Geographic location
3. Productivity of the land
4. Economic status of the landowner

B. Eligibility for Receiving Land

Eligibility for receiving land under the scheme is determined based on the following criteria:

1. Need for land: The applicant must demonstrate a genuine need for land to pursue agricultural activities.
2. Income level: The applicant must demonstrate a low income level to qualify for land under the scheme.
3. Availability of land: The applicant must demonstrate that the land is not already occupied by another landowner.

C. Acquisition and Distribution of Land

The land is acquired by the Government at fair market value and then distributed among eligible agriculturists. The distribution is done in a manner that promotes equality and social justice.

The Government of Andhra Pradesh is committed to implementing this scheme to ensure a fair and equitable distribution of land among the agriculturists, thereby promoting the economic development of the State.

The Ananda Pradesh Ceiling on Agricultural Holdings Bill, 1960

6th July, 1960

The proposed bill is to be called the "Land Reforms" Bill. It aims to reduce the agricultural holdings to a certain extent. The bill provides for the redistribution of land to farmers, especially to those who have been adversely affected due to low production or due to other reasons. The bill also includes provisions for the payment of compensation to those who are affected by the redistribution of land.

The bill is expected to be passed by the end of the current session. It is hoped that the bill will bring about a significant change in the agricultural sector and help improve the living conditions of the farmers.

Commercial crops & Commercial crops are defined as Exemption under the Bill. Section 7 states the procedure for determining the ceiling on commercial crops.

Exemption from ceiling on commercial crops is given under certain conditions. The bill aims to prevent the concentration of land ownership and promote equitable distribution of land among farmers.

Section 9 of the bill outlines the compensation provision for farmers whose land is acquired under the act. The compensation is calculated based on the market value of the land.

The bill also includes provisions for tenant farmers to continue their tenancy rights after the ceiling is imposed.

The Hon'ble Governor of Andhra Pradesh

Subject: The Andhra Pradesh Ceiling on Agricultural Holdings Bill, 1960

The Hon'ble Governor has considered the report of the Committee appointed by him to study the provisions of the Andhra Pradesh Ceiling on Agricultural Holdings Act, 1957, and has decided to submit the report to the Legislative Assembly for consideration.

The report contains recommendations for amendments to the existing law to provide for a fair and just ceiling on agricultural holdings. The Governor has also approved the presentation of a separate bill to amend the law accordingly.

The Hon'ble Governor has further directed that the bill should be introduced in the Legislative Assembly at the earliest opportunity.

This has been done with the view to ensure that the people of the State benefit from the provisions of the new law.

Yours faithfully,

Agricultural Holdings Bill, 1960.
The Andhra Pradesh Ceiling on Agricultural Holdings Bill, 1960

6th July, 1960

The provisions of the bill aim to impose a ceiling on agricultural holdings, thereby ensuring equitable distribution of land among the population. The bill seeks to withdraw from cultivation a certain amount of land that has been sold or mortgaged at an exorbitant price, not by the owner but by a person who has no intention of using it for cultivation. In such cases, the bill provides for the recovery of such land. The provisions also include a clause to prevent the conversion of agricultural land into non-agricultural use. The bill is expected to benefit the farmers by ensuring a fair distribution of land, thereby enhancing their economic standing and overall welfare.
The Andhra Pradesh Ceiling on Agricultural Holdings Bill, 1969

6th July, 1969

The application concludes that the 4.25 acres of land, in the village of Govindpuram, under the name of Shri Ram, is not in excess of the limit prescribed under the said Act. The applicant submits that the land is required for the purpose of livelihood. The Estate Abolition Act also provides for the exemption under certain conditions. However, the applicant is not entitled to exemption as he has not fulfilled the conditions prescribed. The Act provides for exemption under certain conditions.

The proposed bill provides for the amendment of the existing law. The amended Act provides for the exemption of land under certain conditions. The amended Act also provides for the allocation of land to the landless labourers. The amended Act also provides for the registration of land transactions.

The Andhra Pradesh Bill on Agricultural Holdings Bill, 1960

The Bill seeks to amend the Agricultural Holdings Act, 1958, to provide for a general ceiling on the holdings of land. It proposes to enact a new Act to implement this ceiling. The ceiling is to be applicable to agricultural holdings in the state. The Bill also provides for the establishment of a committee to administer the provisions of the Act. The committee will consist of members appointed by the government. The Bill further provides for the registration of agricultural tenancies and the establishment of a appellate authority to entertain appeals from the decisions of the committee. The Bill also provides for the payment of compensation to tenants whose holdings are affected by the ceiling. The Bill is expected to provide for a just and equitable distribution of land among the landless and for the improvement of agriculture in the state.
The Andhra Pradesh Ceiling on Agricultural Holdings Bill, 1960

My intention is to highlight some key provisions of the Bill. Specifically, the Bill seeks to abolish the practice of 'large holdings' as defined in Section 2 of the Agricultural Holdings Act, 1950. The Bill aims to prevent the concentration of land ownership, which can lead to social and economic disparities.

Under the Bill, any holding exceeding a certain limit will be subject to ceiling. The limit varies depending on the state and the area. This measure is expected to promote more equitable distribution of land and resources.

The Bill also provides for the redistribution of land to the landless or those unable to manage their holdings adequately. This would help in reducing the gap between the rich and the poor, and would contribute to a more sustainable agricultural sector.

In conclusion, the Bill is a significant step towards ensuring a fair and just distribution of land resources. It is hoped that its implementation will bring about a more equitable society, where all have access to necessary land resources.
