Mr Speaker - He is making a general suggestion. Number of people are encroaching. According to him, there is a document which states 50 people, 100 people, 200 people encroaching the boundaries. He also states that the boundaries have been altered. After the alteration, the new boundaries have to be enquired into.

To Mr. V.N. Rao - Star member in public meeting, the number of unauthorised occupations is 500. In my view, we should pin down the general suggestion. According to him, the general action is required to be taken. In particular, he has suggested action. He has suggested that unauthorised occupations are to be pin down. He has also suggested that prohibited boundaries should be enquired into. He has also suggested that unauthorised occupations should be penalised. (a) if so, what is the nature of the opinion offered in this regard?

Sri P V Narasimha Rao.—(a) Yes

(b) This Government suggested the inclusion of the following Land Reforms enactments, which had not already been included, in the Ninth Schedule of the Constitution, besides the several subsequent amendments to the Andhra Pradesh (Andhra Area) Estates (Abolition and Conversion into Ryotwari) Act 1948 and the Andhra Pradesh (Telangana Area) Jagirs (Commutation) Regulation, 1359 Fash.

(i) The Andhra Pradesh Ceiling on Agricultural Holdings Act, 1961, and

Sri P V Narasimha Rao —This question concerns the inclusion of this Act in the 17th Amendment Bill. I think the information asked for by Mr. Gopalakrishnayya could be given on putting a separate question.

Sri P V Narasimha Rao —(a) The answer is in the negative

(b) & (c) The Village Munsiff of Kothapalle was granted fish patta for the tank in question by the ex-landholders of Gudipati Estate on 29-1-1944 which was confirmed by the erstwhile Chittoor Estate Manager in August 1952. Therefore fishing right in tank in question is not being disposed off in public auction.

It is under correspondence,
I think that within a very short time the patta will be cancelled

Will the hon. Minister for Planning and Panchayat Raj be pleased to state:

(a) the block-wise number of model panchayats have been awarded prizes in 1962-63 in Srikakulam district, and

(b) the criteria fixed by the Government for declaring a panchayat as a model panchayat?

The Minister for Planning and Panchayat Raj (Dr M Chenna Reddy) —(a) There is no scheme of selecting model Panchayats as such in any District. But, there is a scheme under which best Panchayats are selected at the block, District and State level for which prizes are awarded at Rs 1,000/-, Rs 5,000/-, and Rs 15,000/- respectively.

Out of 34 blocks in Srikakulam District, Panchayats in three blocks did not participate in this competition. 31 (thirty-one) Panchayats in the remaining thirty-one blocks were selected as the best Panchayats in these blocks and each was awarded a cash prize of Rs. 1,000/-

(b) Performance in the following activities is taken as the basis for judging the best Panchayats at the block, district and state levels:

- Utilisation of the powers of taxation (Mandatory and optional);
2 Assessment and collection of taxes, fees and other dues upto the end of 1961-62;
3 Enterprises undertaken to build up the resources of the Panchayat,
4 Development of Cottage Industries by Panchayats,
5 Contributions given by the community for providing amenities etc., and the percentage of families within the Panchayat who contributed,
6 Efforts made to improve agricultural production and the part played by the panchayat towards this end,
7 Efforts made for development of fisheries,
8 Whether, and if so to what extent the Panchayat has looked after the weaker sections of the community in the Panchayat, and
9 Work done for improving village sanitation

(1) 1961-62
(2) 1961-62
(3) 1961-62
(4) 1961-62
Dr. M. Chenna Reddy—(a) Government have received representations in this regard and on introduction of panchayat raj system in the State, Government have issued revised orders, in 1962, simplifying the procedure for prompt adjustment of land/local cess and surcharge on stamp duty to local bodies.

Adj ustment of Land Revenue Cess, etc., to the Panchayats

(a) whether the Government are aware that the land revenue cess and surcharge on stamp duty are not being adjusted regularly to the panchayats in the State, and

(b) if so, the reasons therefor?
(b) As per the old procedure, in Andhra region, village Officers used to make a consolidated remittance of the land revenue and the cess in lump sum. There were delays in separating the cess from the land Revenue and re-allocating the same correctly to the panchayats after verification with treasury figures. Similarly in Telengana region the delay was due to delay in securing the village-wise collection of local cess particulars and the reconciliation of the figures in the District Treasuries with the Sub-Treasury figures. Thus the delay in adjustment of land cess or surcharge on stamp duty was due to non-receipt of particulars by the Collectors and District Registrars from Tahsildars and Sub-Registrars respectively.

Sri R. R Deshpande (Narayankhed) Mr. Speaker, Sir, does the stamp duty also include the 5% transfer of property tax under the rules?

Dr. M Chenna Reddy Yes, please.
Dr M Chenna Reddy  In Telangana area also the rules under the Panchayat Act (Telangana Act) which is now still in force, have been framed and under these rules at the registration end the duty is being collected.

Sri R R Deshpande  Is the Government aware, Sir, that the stamp duty of 5% is also being collected in villages where the transfer of property rules have not been enforced and made applicable also in certain villages in Telangana area?

Shri K. Brahmananda Reddy: On a point of order, Can an hon. Member put a question to any Minister at any time, Sir. (Laughter)
Will the hon Minister for Planning and Panchayat Raj be pleased to state whether the Government are aware of the severe hindrance caused to the communication facilities in Chodayapalem firka because of the failure to metal the remaining 2 miles of Repalle–Tummala Road in Guntur district?

Dr M Chenna Reddy — Severe hindrance has been caused to the communication facilities in Chodayapalem Firka not because of the failure to metal that portion of the damaged road, but because of the heavy damage caused by the floods and it has to be repaired at huge cost. Repairs to the flood damaged road will be considered subject to the availability of funds along with similar cases at the appropriate time.
It is reported that due to floods in the previous years a portion of the road from five miles to seven miles (two miles) was completely damaged and that for reme- tailing the road as well as for construction of culverts, it is estimated that 1,60,000 is required. It is also reported that a further sum of one lakh is required for construction of culverts for the entire road.

Has it been paid in cash and if so, to how many?
Sri B V Gurumurthi — It varies from case to case. Sir, they have been asking us about 22 cases and the office has given us a detailed note about every case. That is why, I cannot just say how many have been paid compensation and how many have not been paid.

Sri T Nagi Reddy — Exactly why not?

Sri B V Gurumurthi — I am prepared to give further details, not merely that.

Sri T Nagi Reddy — He can give us the details. But the simplest that we want is this. The representation was given on the 29th March, 1963 about the number of applications received, etc., Only by that we will be able to understand the efficiency with which the department is functioning. Otherwise we will not be able to understand that.

Sri B V Gurumurthi — I have explained, Sir, that it varies from case to case. I may just read of one case, the case of a widow. She will be getting quarterly instalment of Rs 21-20 nP for her maintenance.

Sri T Nagi Reddy — If he reads, I have no objection. The point is, the widow has been given certain amount, to be paid to her in certain stages. Has the first stage been paid to her?

Sri B V Gurumurthi — Sir, I can read it.

Sri T Nagi Reddy — The hon Minister need not read the whole thing. In how many cases compensation has been paid?

Sri B V Gurumurthi — Then I have to cull out from the information that I have got that so many have got compensation in this manner, so many have got compensation in that manner and so many have been refused compensation. It will take some time.
Mr Speaker – I cannot give you any more time

On the basis of certain percentage which guaranteed for its profits, the company has decided to bring more and more British personnel to the top posts of the company instead of giving them to the Indian personnel. At a time when the country is thinking in terms of Indianisation of foreign firms both on the question of equity capital and on the question of personnel, it is something astonishing that we are hearing that they are trying to bring more and more British personnel to the top posts of the company instead of giving them to the Indian personnel.

Steps should be taken to accommodate the Indian personnel, and seasonal labour should be given to the seasonal labour policy of the company. Seasonal labour is crucial for continuity. For seasonal labour, the seasonal labour policy should be in place. A seasonal labour policy is necessary because we need to accommodate seasonal labour.

Calling attention to a matter of urgent Public Importance - re - Retrenchment of a large number of workers and clerical staff in the I L T D Company

Workers are constantly being retrenched. As per the instructions, the management has been making fulfilling all the conditions mentioned. However, the situation is not only not improving but is deteriorating. The workers have been working overtime and management has been encouraging them. The number of workers has been reduced from 1963 to 307. The working class workers have been working seasonally and permanently. The seasonal workers have been graded in different categories. The serious problem of the workers is that the workers are not being encouraged.

[The text continues with various points regarding the workers' conditions and management's responses.]
Calling attention to a matter of urgent Public Importance – re - Retrenchment of a large number of workers and clerical staff in the I. L T. D Company

The I L T D Company Limited made proposals to close certain depots in 1963 and 1964 and in addition, to reduce seasonal labour force at certain other depots. After protracted discussions the Andhra Pradesh I L T D Company Workers' Union (A P T U C ) representing the majority of the workers of the Company entered into an agreement with the management before the Commissioner of Labour on 18-1-1963. According to the agreement the workers' Union agreed for provision of employment by rotation to seasonal workers. During the course of discussions before the Commissioner of Labour the worker's Union had agreed to the closure of the Nidudavolu depot, and after protracted discussions regarding the continuance of the depots at Mangalagiri and Kommuru, the management agreed to keep these depots open during 1963 season only.

In August 1963, the management served notices of retrenchment on 91 Non-seasonal daily rated permanent workers indicating their intention to close down the leaf handling and buying depots at Mangalagiri, Cherla, Kommuru, Torredü, Nidudavolu, Polavaram, Malaka-palli and Muggalla. The retrenchment actually took effect from 30-9-1963. The management thereafter decided to close the above depots and intimated the I L T D Company Staff Association, which represents the Clerical/and Class 'B' Staff of the company, that they would issue notices of retrenchment to 200 Non-seasonal Clerical/ Class 'A' staff, and indicated a further retrenchment of nearly 376 of the above category of staff.
Calling attention to a matter of urgent Public Importance re - Retrenchment of a large number of workers and clerical staff in the I L T D Company

20th November, 1963

There has been much agitation both from the I L T D Staff Association (I N T U C) and the Andhra Pradesh I L T D Workers’ Union (A P T U C) over the above mentioned two decisions of the Management of Clerical and daily-rated workers respectively. With a view to bring about a mutually agreed solution and reduce retrenchment and resultant un-employment to a large number of workers, the Commissioner of Labour intervened in the matter but all his efforts ended in failure. In view of the gravity of the situation due to large scale retrenchment and un-employment I also convened separate meetings of the representatives of the Management and the I L T D Staff Association and the workers’ Union respectively to resolve the differences among them. In the first instance I held discussions with the management and the I L T D Staff Association representatives on 29-10-1963. As a result the parties agreed to discuss among themselves on 5th and 6th of November 1963 and intimate to me the result of their discussions on 7th November 1963. Meanwhile the management issued notices of retrenchment to 200 Non-seasonal Clerical/Class ‘A’ Staff.

On 7th November, 1963 the representatives of Staff Association (I N T U C) and the management met me and I held joint discussions with them. It was then decided to refer the following two issues affecting the Non-seasonal Clerical/Class ‘A’ Staff for adjudication —

1. Whether the proposed retrenchment of 576 Clerical/Class ‘A’ Workers is justified. If so with what relief?

2. Whether the proposals made by the Company for effecting retrenchment in para 7(e) and (f) in their statement of reasons is in accordance with Sec 25 (G) of the Industrial Disputes Act

The dispute was accordingly referred for adjudication. I have, in the meantime, also written to the Area Personnel Manager of the Company, Sri R Ramananda Rao not to proceed with the retrenchment of the workmen pending adjudication and particularly taking into consideration the Industrial Truce Resolution. The Area Personnel Manager has since informed me that as per the advice of Government the Company has agreed to postpone the retrenchment of Non-seasonal Clerical/Class ‘A’ workers pending the proceedings of the adjudication.

In so far as the case of Andhra Pradesh I L T D Workers’ Union is concerned the Commissioner of Labour had already recommended in October, 1963 reference of 11 of the 18 demands put forth by the Andhra Pradesh I L T D Workers’ Union (A P T U C) for adjudication and suggested that the other 7 demands do not merit reference for adjudication. But considering that any hasty action by Government might affect the possibility of an amicable settlement, I invited the parties for a discussion on 29th October, 1963. During the course of discussions, there was no prospect of settlement and I advised the parties to have further discussions and intimate the rules to me. But on the 8th November, 1963, I was told that the talks between the Workers’ Union and the management had failed. Hence the dispute on the following issues was also referred for adjudication:

(1) How far the demands of the Unions, viz (i) that no depot which worked during 1962 season should be closed, and (ii) that no workman who worked in 1962 season should be retrenched, are justified?
(2) Are the demands of the unions for revision of basic wages and DA, as set forth in their memorandum of demands dated 29-8-1963, justified, and if so, to what extent?

(3) Are the demands relating to additional discomfort allowance, change in the system of payment, etc. for all non-seasonal employees, and equal wages and facilities to workers at buying points, nurseries and godowns, as in the case of general workers in the Depots, justified? If so, to what extent?

(4) (a) Are the unions justified in demanding regularisation and treatment as general workers in the case of 72 male workers who have worked for two seasons in Chirala Factory?

(b) Is the company justified in employing casual labour (i) to cope with work which is necessarily intermittent (ii) when there is undue absenteeism, and (iii) and to meet unexpected work due to additional orders received, which are not likely to be continued during the following years?

(5) How far the demands for (i) amendment of Gratuity Rules, (ii) bonus at 3/12th of basic wages and DA, and (iii) modification of leave rules as set forth under No 8 of the memorandum of demands, are justified?

(6) Is the demand of the Unions regarding security of service and service conditions, as detailed under item No 10 of their memorandum of demands justified, and if so, to what extent?
Calling attention to a matter of urgent Public Importance – re - Retrenchment of a large number of workers and clerical staff in the I L T D Company

(7) Is the demand for fixing retiring age at 58 years justified?

(8) Are the demands of the unions raised under “Classification of workers and designation” (Demand No 13 in the memorandum of demands) against items (1), (2), (3) and (6) justified?

(9) How far the demands relating to hours of work and uniforms are justified?

(10) Is the company justified in laying off workers when they have to shut a machine/machines, or a section/sections, due to high absenteeism?

(11) What should be the “standard workloads” for all categories of workers based on “standard time”?

The President, Andhra Pradesh I L T D Company Workers, Union (A P T U C) was, however, informed that the Government do not consider the following demands as fit for reference for adjudication

Provident Fund
Maternity Benefit
Retention Allowance
Abolition of Contract System
Promotions and Recruitment
Industrial Housing
Appointment of substitutes
Interest free loans

I am, however, hopeful that when the concerned parties hold further discussion on 26th and 27th November, 1963, they will arrive at an amicable settlement of this dispute.

"Sri Gadgil continuing his observations further said that the old traditions and values had already gone. The landless labour which was not mobile in old days, was now very much mobile. Transport system had improved. The big landlords were more or less liquidated and the dignity with which they moved about in their respective jurisdictions was also gone. It was the peasants who grew cash crops, like sugarcane, cotton or oilseeds who were dominating these panchayats. That was a role which one might call in good old terms bourgeois. It was different. It was not hereditary. But it was a ruling class that was coming up in India and ad this was true of the whole country. If one watched the party in power continuously for the last 15 years, one would find that all places of advantage were filled either by the members of the party or their relatives or brothers-in-law. In a limited sense a ruling class had come into existence."

The following is an extract from a government document:

1. The scheduled castes and scheduled tribes are recognized as socially disadvantaged groups. The Government of India has taken several measures to promote their welfare and development. One of the significant steps has been the enactment of the Village Panchayats Act, 1968, which aims to provide a platform for these communities to participate in the decision-making process at the grassroots level.

2. In order to ensure effective representation of the scheduled castes and scheduled tribes, the government has introduced reservation policies in various sectors, including education, employment, and other public services. For instance, the government has reserved a certain percentage of seats in educational institutions and government jobs for these communities.

3. The government has also allocated specific funds for the development of scheduled castes and scheduled tribes. These funds are used to support various projects and programs aimed at improving their socioeconomic conditions. These projects include the construction of schools, hospitals, and other infrastructure, as well as the provision of technical and vocational training.

4. The government has also taken steps to ensure that the rights of scheduled castes and scheduled tribes are protected under the law. This includes measures to prevent discrimination and marginalization, as well as the promotion of their cultural and linguistic diversity.

5. Despite these efforts, challenges remain in ensuring the effective implementation of reservation policies and addressing the needs of the scheduled castes and scheduled tribes. The government is committed to continuing its efforts to improve the lives of these communities and promote their equal participation in society.

"unexpected balance" as to how much the government expected to receive in revenue from these sources, and how much was actually received. It turned out that the actual receipts were significantly lower than the estimates, leading to a situation where the government had to cut back on its spending or find additional sources of revenue. This caused tension within the government, as well as with the public, who were accustomed to receiving certain services and benefits. The situation was exacerbated by the fact that the government had to pay its debts and meet its obligations, which further strained its financial resources. In the end, it was decided to increase taxes and cut back on non-essential spending, which led to a significant drop in the country's standard of living. The impact of this decision was felt for years to come, as the country struggled to recover from the economic downturn that followed.
