re: Demise of Sri B. V. Gumurthy, M.L.A.

Sri S. Jaipal Reddy (Kalvakurthi): Mr. Speaker, Sir, I rise to pay my tribute in memory of the departed soul and I have no words to describe the loss sustained by me. The loss itself is intensely personal. Only three weeks back, the late Mr. Gurumoorthy was kind enough to appoint me as his Secretary. I was very glad to accept the post, not because I liked the job of General Secretary, but because I thought it was a privilege to work under his inspiring stewardship. A very warm-blooded and a kind-hearted man has been snatched away from our midst by the cruel and cold hands of death. In his sudden and premature demise, Congress in the State has lost a great captain, our State an indomitable crusader of its integrity and our country a flaming patriot. Mr. Gurumoorthy has served our State in different capacities. Friends before me have described the many deeds that he has to his credit in the past. I always felt about him that he had the makings of a man of destiny. Had he lived longer, he would have risen to greater heights. In this connection, I am reminded of the lines of Christopher Marlow: “Cut is the branch that would have grown full straight; Burned’s Apollo’s laurel bough.” The most striking thing about him was that he was a man of passionate convictions. It was the great Italian poet Dante who said: “The hottest places in hell are reserved for those who in time of great moral crisis maintain their neutrality.” But here was a man who in time of moral crisis always took an upright and steadfast stand. When our State which has been under a cloud for the last 1 year and more and has been gripped by great moral crisis and what I might call move towards disintegration, Mr. Gurumooorthy held aloft the torch of integration. Another thing about him was that he was an integrated personality. In him we found an intellectual, an organiser and a man of abundant common sense. He had uncommon common sense in an uncommon measure: A man rises to the pinnacle in politics not because of any single outstanding quality, but because of an outstanding combination of many-sided qualities. In Mr. Gurumooorthy, we found an outstanding combination of many good qualities which would have stood him in good stead in whatever position he would have got into.

With these few words, I associate myself with the resolution moved by the hon' Chief Minister.

Radio about the sudden demise of our dear friend Mr. Gurumurthy. He was indeed a friend to all and he always did his best to satisfy everyone. Only yesterday I was discussing with him the prospects of jobs for our young boys and he told me "don't worry Mrs. Godfrey, I shall also consult the other Ministers and see whether we can get all our boys employed."

In his death, the people of Andhra Pradesh have lost a sincere friend and a brother. A calm and unassuming worker and one who did his best to keep the peace of the State, his love to the people was so great that he willingly relinquished his Ministership so that peace and love may prevail among people. We should at least now follow ideals for which he loved and worked so that we may prove to be his true friends.

My people and I join the Chief Minister and others in all that they have expressed and pray that God give eternal happiness to his soul and peace and consolation to the members of the bereaved family.

re: Demise of Sri B.V. Gurumurthy, M.L.A.

It was indeed a surprise and shock to me when this morning I heard the news of the demise of Sri B.V. Gurumurthy. I had been associated with him not in one field but in various fields. We had worked together, we had fought together and uprooted the base of the old feudalism in the former Hyderabad State. My memory fails in taking count of the achievements we had obtained together in our association during the period of independence struggle and our fight against feudalism. He took prominent part in the political, social, cultural and other various fields in the former Hyderabad State. After the formation of Andhra Pradesh he played a prominent role in various sectors. As has been said by many speakers just now, he worked as an ordinary worker but not as a leader. It is a shock to know that today he is not amongst us.

I pray to the Almighty that his soul may rest in peace and that the members of the bereaved family face the loss with courage and fortitude.
