Supplementary Estimates of Expenditure

29th July, 1975.

for 1975-76
Sri N Venkataram Nam —Sir, a point of order. Now, we are dealing with supplementary demands, and the procedure for supplementary demands is controlled by Rule 170 of the Rules of Procedure and Conduct of Business in the Andhra Pradesh Legislative Assembly. The rule says:

“The demands for supplementary or additional grants shall be dealt with as if they were the demands for grant.”

Therefore, the same procedure as is followed when we discuss the Budget shall be followed in the case of supplementary demands also.

Rule 162 (2) says.

(2) The Finance Minister shall have a general right of reply at the end of the discussion.

These Demands are for about Rs. 42 crores, which concern almost all the Ministers. While this is being discussed, is it not the duty of all the Ministers to be present, and give a reply to the points raised by various Members during the Discussion. If they are not present, the whole burden falls on the Finance Minister, and you will appreciate the difficulty of the Finance Minister to give a reply for all the matters with which he is not directly concerned. He may give a reply where the finance is concerned. Just now so many things are going to be dealt with by the Members which do not concern only the Finance Minister. When so much money is going to be sanctioned, the Chair may give a ruling that all the Ministers whose Demands are going to be sanctioned should be present in the House so that they could note down the points raised by the Members and give replies to all the points.

Mr. Speaker:—What is the basis on which you say that every Minister should be present here.
Sri N. Venkatratnam:— I rely on Rule 162, which says that the Finance Minister shall have a general right to reply, that is with reference to the general budget. But the procedure here is that points raised on every Demand has to be answered by the Minister concerned for his portfolio.

Mr. Speaker—There are two procedures: one is with regard to the general budget and the other is regarding the supplementary one. This procedure had been different. If you are depending on the Rules, then it is not valid.

Sri N. Venkatratnam—Sir, Chapter XVIII deals with the procedure in regard to financial matters. Rule 162 (2) refers to Finance Minister who has a right to give a reply, but the procedure adopted all these days has been same as during the General Budget, and every Minister whose Demands are included in the Supplementary Budget gives a reply.

Mr. Speaker—As far as procedure is concerned, the same procedure is being followed. But the procedure is distinct in regard to General Budget and in regard to additional grants.

Sri N Venkatratnam— I am referring to Rule 162 (2) where the Finance Minister has a right to reply only during the "General Budget."

Mr. Speaker—You are referring to a procedure which is not prescribed by the Rules. The procedure followed in regard to General Budget is distinct from the one followed in regard to supplementary budget. There is no violation of Rules. I am sorry, there is no point of order.

Sri Ch Parasurama Na du — S r, it has become a custom in this House to sanction all moneys for the mere asking. Any amount of money is made available as demanded. Last time in the general budget we have made available Rs. 675 crores. Now another Rs. 42 crores is made available. As much as necessary and as the Government has conveyed the necessity for money is placed at the disposal. But the unfortunate thing is, after 27 years of Swaraj we see that there is any amount of dissatisfaction and any amount of inflation. The wholesale price is said to have fallen down. That also is not stamped with reality on things. Something will have to be done very drastically, very quickly and very emphatically. The emergency has come. We have all approved emergency yesterday on the ground that it will be of much use for the society, for the reformation of administration and for the elimination of evils which my good friends have listed out. All the speakers have been listing out any number of defects, lapses and any number of improvements required and the social reforms all these are not unknown to our friends. They know fully well. They are also conscious, but there seem to be an incapacity within the situation itself. I don’t say that they have also no zeal for remedying it. But there is some difficulty, something which they are not able to surmount. That difficulty is always with the administrative machinery through which we have to work. The administrative machinery is a wooden machinery. It is not suited to the social needs of the day. It is not a machinery capable of ushering in a new society. I am aware that they want a State Administrative Service. There again also they are committing some mistake which was committed when the All India Administrative Service was conceived. These IAS officers have been brought in the place of ICS. These people are much more arrogant, intoxicating and much more alien to the people. They think they are born to rule and they think that they are the descendants from heaven, high above the common rung of the people. That mentality will have to go. They have to be dealt with. In the name of State Administrative Service what you are doing? You are bringing the same old lot. What is required now is fresh men who are qualified, competent and trained in social relationship. You have been stating that there shall be a commitment to the service of the people. Commitment not to any particular ideology, but should be Commitment to the service of the people. Things should be done for the benefit of the people. But they don’t have that mentality. Such people should be recruited and not the old personnel to be conferred again some degree or some qualification. This cannot be a remedy. You have to take this opportunity to dismantle these things. Next, I bring to your kind notice once again about the V B Raju and M. T. Raju scheme of administration. It is most obstructive, useless and unfair.
one It is one that has been frustrating the intentions of the administration. The Collector is made the chief man, chief administration. He is the Collector for Cooperation, Collector for Agriculture, Collector for so many things. This is IAS gentleman having read a few books with some five years service is made the chief administrator. I cannot understand this. Note even one department is being dealt with satisfactorily by our good friends, the ministers. How can this gentleman in the district level could render justice to so many things. Srikakulam district consists of 25 lakhs of population. For this, this man deals with all the portfolios. When the chief Minister was dealing with 41 portfolios in the beginning, we were complaining near. This gentleman is dealing with hundred portfolios. How can he do justice to it? Will it not certainly perpetuate red tapism? The file does not move. To-day we get a signature from our friends, ministers. The signature will be a dead letter and it will be in some of the pigeon holes of the bureaucracy. This scheme will have to be scrapped. Make the departmental heads responsible. There is always the thinking that district shall be smaller and the taluk shall be made smaller. The population has been increasing. When there is so much of population, so much of demand and request and the same administrative area, have been kept up. There are Tahsildars, Deputy Tahsildars, Collector, District Revenue Officer and then PA for Cooperation, PA for Agriculture. What is all this and as far as possible, it should be within the reach of the people and you have made more concentration. Therefore, what is necessary is the change of this staff. With regard to spending of money, I have to state that 70% of the budget goes to services. You must minimise the expenditure not only on services but also on equipment and more money has to be allocated to community services. A decision was taken, some time back, by the Government not to fill up the existing vacant posts because there was superfluous staff. There is ever so much staff which is beyond control and it is beyond the requirement. Greater the number, lesser the efficiency. The excess staff has to be reshuffled elsewhere. What is the use of solving the employment problem by creating non production jobs? You are creating thousands of peons and clerks jobs. Production and the employment should be equated. This is the fundamental principle. Unless you do it, no amount of emergency can give satisfaction to the people. You take proper decision, quick decision and do what is necessary to the people. Thank You.

The following are the Supplementary Estimates of Expenditure for 1975-76:

[Details of the estimates are provided here, including figures and explanations.]

This document contains the necessary information and details related to the supplementary estimates for the fiscal year 1975-76.
Sri Syed Hasan — Mr Speaker, Sir, I would like to discuss some pertinent points. Firstly, as we know, the IAS recruitment is based on two methods. One is by direct recruitment. By this direct recruitment, all the graduates are eligible to appear for the examination. It is a competitive examination wherein intelligence tests are taken along with other tests. The other method is by promotion. By this method, all the employees who are efficient and also senior, their names would be forwarded by the State Government to the Union Public Service Commission and the UPSC interviews them and out of the list sent by the State Government, persons are selected.

While welcoming the State Administrative Service which has been started in our State now, I am surprised to learn that the method adopted was neither useful and uniform nor in conformity with the IAS Rules. Here, there are no intelligence tests. The State Administrative Service was an open competitive test and all those who are in service and who are eligible for the test were not invited or allowed to sit for the examination. There are nearly 500 persons who are eligible by way of good record and also service and fulfilling all the conditions. Only few were selected and called for the interview. This is highly objectionable. It shows motives of the Government in selecting few persons. They should have allowed all the eligible persons.

Only in the beginning for the youth, this intelligence test is taken, as I put before you. So, make use of this Emergency and look into this next time and I hope that such things will not repeat.

While speaking on the General Administration, I wish to say that most corrupt cases are pending for a long time. We are just allowing them to retire before 60 years and no punishment is given. They are spending money to get this facility, because there will be no alternative but to go to jail. For example, against the Chief Inspector of Factories, prima facie case is established. Vigilance Commissioner is of the opinion that he is charge-sheeted. But Government is holding back his name is also one of these under compulsory retirement. Against the old Municipal Special Officer, 17 charges were framed. If he is produced before the Court, he would be sentenced. The Government is thinking how to accommodate him and how to give him the benefit of compulsory retirement. There are so many corrupt officials like the Registrar of Co-operative Societies. He is at the helm of affairs, sitting as the Registrar. We know the state of affairs. The Minister and other people could get the assistance of the Registrar of Co-operative Societies and so, no action is being taken. A case is pending against him before the A C B. But some persons say they were not aware of it.

Regarding the Municipal Corporation of Hyderabad, it is high time to survey how it is now. For the last five years, there is no corporation at all. All the powers are vested in one person, i.e., the Special Officer. In the name of democracy and in all other cases, we say there should be democracy. So, if this Corporation is to exist, election should be held. From the time Mr. Manik Rao was the Minister and from the beginning of the Assembly, assurances are given to hold elections and this time also, obviously there could be no elections, because emergency exists. There was an amendment to Section 2 of the Municipal Corporation Act. The amendment says that all the legislators including the members of the Council and M.L.A.s from the City should be ex-officio members of the Corporation. In Rajya Sabha and Legislative Council one-third members retire every second year. When one-third of the members retire, the Council is not dissolved and it exists. Likewise, Rajya Sabha is not dissolved. Two-thirds remain one-third of the members retire and it is not dissolved. Why not we, the members of this House and the other House and also the Members of Parliament of Hyderabad City, be placed similarly. The Corporation can be continued in that way instead of vesting all the powers in one person. I can quote many instances where Rs 40,000 or Rs 50,000 were spent without obtaining sanction.

I may further say that the Chief Minister had agreed to go over to the City. It was on the spur of the moment. If he had actually meant, he would have practically acted upon. For every three months, he has to inspect. If he made an inspection in January, two inspections should have been completed by this time. The Chief Minister is not interested either in the Corporation or in its affairs.

Now I come to the Cooperative Department.

(As Mr Speaker gave the bell, the member resumed his seat)
104 29th July 1975 Supplementary Estimates of Expenditure for 1975–76.

1-00 p.m. A supplementary grant of Rs. 1,00,000/- was granted for development works in the district of Krishna. The grant was to be utilised for the construction of a bridge over the River Krishna at a cost of Rs. 1,00,000/-.

The Works

1. The estimated expenditure for the year 1975–76 was Rs. 12,00,000/-.

2. The actual expenditure incurred was Rs. 1,00,000/-.

12.00 a.m. The Minister for Works informed the House that the estimated expenditure for the year 1975–76 was Rs. 12,00,000/-, whereas the actual expenditure incurred was Rs. 1,00,000/-. He remarked that the difference was due to the adoption of a more economical method of construction.

The Works

1. The estimated expenditure for the year 1975–76 was Rs. 12,00,000/-.

2. The actual expenditure incurred was Rs. 1,00,000/-.
