Sri K. Vidyadhara Rao (Chintalapudi) :- Sir, lot of clarification has been given on Thimmayapally village firing in Wanaparthy Taluka, but I would like to ask the Home Minister to clarify certain points. Whether the Government is prepared to order for Magisterial Enquiry? Who is the arrack Contractor there? Was this firing due to provocation caused by the goondas of the arrack Contractor? Was this firing caused due to the reason that these goondas went and beat the old mother of the deceased? Was it a fact that when the deceased went to question as to why his old mother was beaten, he was beaten mercilessly, and the Police opened fire and killed him? Was it a fact that in the firing a boy of 10 years was killed and a child of 8 years was also in jured and so many others received bullet injuries? Is the Government prepared to order for a magisterial enquiry and bring to book these unlawful goondas of Arrack Contractor, who are going amuck and just bringing bad name and spoil by the image of the Government attacking these villagers, and creating these problems?

Mr. Speaker :- Let the Home Minister give the reply. Then, the Hon'ble Members can ask for clarifications, as there is not much time left for other business. There are still number of questions and we have to transact the other business of the House within the stipulated time. Sufficient light was already thrown on the subject.

On the 16th of February, 1984, the ayyacutdars of Nagarjunasagar Left Canal in the Nalgonda district went on strike. The strike lasted from 16th-23rd of February 1984, and continued from 22nd March to 29th March 1983. The ayyacutdars were demanding better water distribution and facilities.

The ayyacutdars were protesting against the unfair distribution of water, which was causing severe hardships to them. They were seeking better management of the canal to ensure a fair share of water for all the farmers in the area.

The government has been informed about the situation and is taking steps to address the demands of the ayyacutdars. The dispute is being handled in the court.

Strike by Paid Secretaries of Primary Agricultural Cooperative Societies

[Text in Telugu]

The situation arose as a result of a recommendation by the Board of Directors of Primary Agricultural Cooperative Societies (PACSs) to extend the present strike. The strike was called by the paid secretaries of these societies on 12th December 1984. The strike was scheduled to end on 18th December 1984. However, the strike continued and the strike committee demanded certain concessions from the management. The management refused to grant the concessions demanded by the strike committee. This led to a prolonged strike which lasted for several weeks. The strike was called off on 10th January 1985.
